Dr. Brown for Cemetery Commissioner.

Dr. George P. Brown has been asked to stand for Cemetery Commissioner to take the place of the late Mr. Charles F. Lunt, and he has decided to do so. Dr. Brown has a great deal of leisure time on his hands, and if elected will devote much of it to the care of the cemetery. This Commission is fortunate in having on it so many gentlemen of taste and good judgment who are willing to give freely of their time. There is no other department that the town has so little about as the Cemetery Commission and yet in the course of a year they do a vast amount of work, and the beautiful Cemetery shows it.

Business Directory.

On the fourth page of this week's issue will be found a classified business directory, containing the names of forty-five of our representative business and professional firms and individuals, making, as published, a fine exhibit of Winchester's industrial enterprises, although quite a number of others might be included to make the directory complete.

The omissions are in most cases owing to the absence of heads of establishments while the canvass was being made by Mr. W. E. Clarke, a newspaper and advertising manager of wide experience, and who is on the best of terms with publishers of the leading papers and magazines. Winchester people have expressed entire satisfaction with Mr. Clarke's efforts, and his connection with this office has been marked by unflinching courtesy and prompt fulfillment of all obligations.

Any of our business men who have been overlooked in this canvass, will find their card a welcome addition to this list, and a representative of the STAR will be quick to personally attend to any request.

Miss Marguerite Barr Receives Her Friends New Year's Eve.

On New Year's Eve Mrs. Frank Barr gave a New Year's party for her daughter Marguerite, a pupil of the high school. About 30 young people attended, many of whom attend boarding school and were home for the holidays. The house, a particularly elegant one and well adapted to dancing, was profusely decorated with evergreens, holly and mistletoe, and a huge Christmas tree bore the favors for the German, which were very unique. During the evening a feature was the cake walk which was danced by all the young folks to ragtime music. At five minutes of twelve all formed a circle, joining hands, arm-in-arm, the lights were turned down and all joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne"; at the last stroke of twelve, the light came on, and the grand right and left was danced to lively music, and each greeted their partners with a Happy New Year. An elaborate supper was served in the evening, and shortly after twelve the party broke up. This party was a delightful affair, conceived and carried out in perfect detail.

Pleasantly Surprised.

Last Saturday night the young people of the Highlands very pleasantly surprised Miss Matilda Thompson at her home on Forest street. The first part of the evening was spent in playing games. Later on Miss Howe furnished a very pleasing entertainment with his gramophone, and during the evening Miss Thompson's friends presented her with a very fine dress suit case. Mr. Clyde W. Bell making the presentation speech. This was also a farewell party, as Miss Thompson started Tuesday for the Henry W. Bishop Jr. Memorial Training School for Nurses at Pittsfield, Mass.

News Paragraphs.

The new Centre grammar school building looks a great deal more commanding since the windows have been placed in position. The building will hardly be completed as soon as was expected, but unless there should be further unexpected waits for material, work will go rapidly ahead. The School Board is said to look with a great deal of favor on converting the attic of the building into a music room. It does a great deal to seal up this valuable space would be a mistake as it could be put to so many uses. The instructor in music, Mr. MacKee, says that more beneficial results can be obtained in teaching three or four classes together in music, than singly, as is being done at present. Then, too, there would be opportunity for physical culture in a larger and more thorough scale than is now being done.

Mrs. D. H. McKay has announced the engagement of her daughter, Alice D. McKay, to Mr. Harry H. Bubler, both of Brookline. Up to a few years ago Mr. Bubler was a resident of Winchester.

After a very pleasant holiday visit to his home, Harold Langley returned this week to his studies at Phillips Exeter Academy.

John Abbott, Esq., has been elected president of the Casque and Gauntlet Club, one of the senior societies of Dartmouth College, and Frank E. Barnard, Esq., secretary and treasurer and also a member of the executive committee.

I notice with pleasure that our newspaper, the STAR, continues to be in flourishing condition in past years. The $250 Medford electric car on the North Woburn Street Railway was delayed for about two hours at Sugar Loaf Gap, just below the Almshouse, on Wednesday last Monday night. The car was running at the cannon ball pace, which has too often characterized the North Woburn line, and jumped the iron at a turnout. Another car came down half an hour later and by dint of much pulling and hauling succeeded in getting its relative back on its feet again at 10.10 (Medford Mercury).

The many friends of Mr. Joseph E. Gordon are congratulating the former on his appointment to the important position of cashier of the Somerville National Bank. This gentleman is a thorough banker having been for years in this line of business, and for the past year discount clerk of the Atlantic National Bank, Boston. He is a prominent member of the Calumet Club and at the present time is treasurer.

The funeral of Mrs. Leonora Houghton, the oldest person in Winchester, was held at the residence of J. C. Kennedy, 28 Mt. Vernon street last Saturday afternoon. The Rev. C. E. Holmes officiated, assisted by the Rev. George H. Cheney of Peabody and the Rev. E. H. Higgins, pastor of the Methodist Church.

It is announced that a concert will be given here Friday evening, February 1st, by Miss Lena Little, Mr. Clayton John and Mr. Joseph Adamowski. This will doubtless be the musical event of the season in Winchester. Tickets will soon be on sale.

The many friends of Superintendent John Gough of the central telephone station were pleased to see him at his office this week after a tedious and dangerous illness of three months' duration with typhoid fever.

Winchester Lodge, A. O. U. W., will install its newly elected officers this evening. No member should miss being present as there is always something good to happen.

The secretary of the Educational Society has been asked to call a meeting of that organization.

There is reported to be a movement on foot to have the School Board increased to five members, two of whom to be women. Those favorable to the change say that women would be a distinct advantage to the schools.

The finances of the Visiting Nurse Association are in very good condition. They were given over $100 at the watch night meeting and the "Gibson Pictures" netted them $291. The society is very flourishing.

Wedgemoor colony 134, U. O. P. F. Monday evening elected the following officers: Governor, Charles J. Harold; lieutenant-governor, Michael O'Flaherty; secretary, Mary Burke; treasurer, Patrick Dodd; collector, James H. Roache; chaplain, Maria Nelson; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. J. H. Roache; deputy, Irvin R. Libby; sentinels, Miss Lena J. Tighe and Mrs. Nora McNelly; musical director, Mrs. Martha S. Gillespie; representatives, Patrick Dodd, John J. McAtter.

It is said that Mayor Davis of Woburn has been overlooked in this canvass, will find their card a welcome addition to this list, and a representative of the STAR will be quick to personally attend to any request.

Monday evening about sixteen ladies and gentlemen friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Dotter, met at the house of Miss Dotter, to spend the evening with the Dotter family. The evening was one of unceasing enjoyment. There was instrumental music, singing of religious and patriotic songs, recitations and a social good time, which made the closing hour of the old century come all too quickly. The F. O. G. T. Sextette, composed of the following gentlemen, gave a most enjoyable performance: N. Polley, G. F. Arnold, G. W. Potter, R. W. Dover, J. W. Potter, Jr., D. Munroe.

Mr. Arnold Lawson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Lawson, has been spending the holidays with his family, having come over from England, where he is a student at Oxford.

A late U. S. census bulletin shows a surprising growth for this county. Middlesex is the second largest county in the state, being exceeded only by Suffolk, while its increase in population exceeds the county of the Hub. Its population is now 255,696, a gain of 121,250 in ten years. All the latest styles in ties and sizes of stationery at Wilson's stationery store.

News Paragraphs.
The annual dinner of the men of the parish of the Epiphany took place in Blaikie (small) hall last evening and was attended by ninety and a hundred men. Hardy of Arlington was caterer. Arthur H. Russell, Esq., presided. After cigars were lighted speeches were made by Mr. Russell, Rev. John S. Lindsay, D. D., of St. Paul's church, Boston; Rev. Mr. Godwin of Nashua, Rev. Mr. Suter, Theo. C. Hurd, Esq., and Rev. Mr. Strong of Quincy. The general subject was the new century, the duty of men in the new century. There was considerable spice in the remarks, the ministers, the state their share of his, some of which were pointed.

Mr. Wm. Corey returned to Wilmington, Del., Tuesday night, and expects to be located in Boston for good in the near future.
Mr. Joshua Phippen and a choir sang selections. The interment was in the family lot at Wildwood.

It is thought there will be many candidates for Steward.
The Class of 1902, High School, held a meeting at Mrs. Panchard's, Dec. 28, at 7.15 o'clock. There were eighteen present. The Secretary's report was read and accepted. Roma S. Nickerson and Chester Underhill were made members of the Class. The Class colors were chosen, red, white, and gold, and a limited price for pins was decided upon. Those who were on the color committee were appointed as pin committee. It was voted that a roll call shall be read by the secretary at every meeting. After the business meeting a pleasant social hour was enjoyed until the meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock.

Among the generous benefactors to the poor of this city, nobody was more active than Mr. Thomas W. Lawson, who sent out some hundred or more baskets of provisions and food to the worthy families in Winchester. Mr. Lawson's gifts to his family were gorgeous in the extreme, and he presented a dressing table and chair to match of solid silver, which were works of art in themselves. To one of his daughters he gave a beautiful gold chain set with pearls and rubies, and to another, one of gold set with the choicest turquoises. (Boston Journal).

The Boston & Lowell Street Railroad Company has secured a location in Billerica for a new station, and surveys have been begun on the line from Burlington toward Billerica, where it is to make a connection with the Lowell Street line. The new line will open up a third electric line between Lowell & Boston, via Burlington, Woburn, Winchester, etc. The new line, which Col. Woodward's president, will be constructed in the spring and quickly opened to business.

There is a cobler's shop opposite the Broadway hall on the roof of which the wooden figure of a cobbler seated at his bench, hammer in hand, apparently tapping a shoe. The figure is artistically carved and the arms and legs move so naturally. It is probably done by electricity.

An ice house that will hold 2000 tons of ice has been erected on the Cranberry pond at the Highlands.
H. S. Brookings has reported to the police that thieves entered his shop by false keys and carried off a paper hanger's kit, load of gold leaf and a felt roller.

Luke Mullen of Charlestown and James Murphy of Everett, were thrown from a carriage in Medford near the Winchester News Sunday night. Murphy was able to pick himself up and catch the horse which was running away. Upon returning to the police station, the Medford police were notified and Mullen taken to the police station, where a physician found that his skull was fractured and the arms and legs were bruised. The hospital. Murphy informed the police that he and Mullen were driving from Woburn and when near the scene of the accident Mullen grabbed the reins and started to drive faster.

Annual Supper.
When the Congregational Church family comes together, then the church accommodations are put to a severe test. This was never more manifest than on the occasion of the annual supper and social last evening, when over 400 persons not only completely filled the large vestry, but overflowed into the smaller rooms. Of course it was the social event of the year, and one calculated to call together a large gathering of the church people to know for a certainty that a choice repeat and an excellent entertainment were in store for them.

The supper last evening was all that could be desired, not only because of the wholesome and choice viands with which the tables were loaded, but also because of the beautiful appearance of the tables. The ladies who had charge of the supper were justly deserving of the complimentary remarks of Rev. Mr. Newton when he spoke of the handsome and well arranged tables and the manner in which the wants of the large company had been looked after by the ladies of the January Group.

Rev. Mr. Newton and Mrs. Newton received the members of the church in the large auditorium and shortly after seven o'clock the doors of the supper room were opened when the seats at the tables were soon occupied.
Rev. Mr. Newton invoked the divine blessing, after which the company discussed the good things for nearly an hour. After a New Year's greeting from the pastor, Rev. George H. Guttersen was introduced as toastmaster, and in a most happy and witty vein called upon the speakers to respond to the toast, "Give them a great deal of latitude, or what might be called expansion. The speakers were George B. Currier, George H. Guttersen, and Charles W. Harris. Rev. Mr. Newton's remarks were full of good points. There were excellent readings by Miss Maude E. Fiske and Mrs. E. C. Luce, the evening closing with a brief social.

Th Gibson Pictures.
The Winchester Visiting Nurse Association has received from the "Gibson Pictures," recently given in Town Hall, the sum of $291.33. This large amount was made possible by the generosity of so many who gave time, talent and materials needed for the proper presentation of the pictures. The association is indebted to Mr. Edmund H. Garrison for his kindness and skill in arranging the pictures for the best artistic effect, and to Mr. Joshua Phippen, Miss Caroline Pond, Miss Florence Fletcher and Mrs. W. H. Bicknell for the music which was so pleasant a feature of the evening.

The thanks are also due to the Woburn Electric Light and Power Co. for putting up and furnishing the special electric lights that were used; to Blanchard and Kendall for lumber furnished; to Mr. D. K. Blaikie for carpenter work, and to many other who so generously helped to make the entertainment a success.

The music for the dance which followed was a very acceptable gift from Mr. T. B. Cotter.
With the money received from this entertainment and the contribution of the watch night meeting, the Association will be able to do satisfactory work this winter. The Visiting Nurse Association.

A Right of Way.
EDITOR OF THE STAR:
I understand, from report, that our town fathers are not disposed to concede to the town any claim to a right of way leading to the pond between the Calumet club house and the Congregational church. That this matter may be decided the county commission should be called on to lay out this right of way. To have it closed would always be a cause for regret.

You Can Blame the Weather!
"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good"—you can blame the unseasonable weather for the unreasonably low prices of these Winter Suits and Overcoats. Each line we speak of here today contains garments that sold at least for $2, $3, $4 and $5 more at the opening of the season, but we'd rather you'd have the overcoats than carry the stock over to another year—"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." Early choosing will be best, of course.

At $15, Striped and Checked Worsteds in exclusive patterns not to be found elsewhere. $18 and $20 suits, and sold for the price of $15 easily in November. $15

Overcoats.
At $7.50 there are Kerseys in all shades and Oxford Mixtures with velvet collars to match the cloth. They were made up especially for this season's trade, but the price has been $7.50 heretofore. $7.50

Gov. Crane in his inaugural address recommends the consolidation of the water and sewer departments of the Metropolitan district. This suggestion is due to the fact that the work of construction in these two departments is practically finished, and that now one board can easily take care of both.

Winchester does not receive its supply of water from the Metropolitan works, but from its own reservoirs, as seen in the above picture, but the town is, however, using the Metropolitan sewers. A few years ago, Mr. John L. Freeman, who was a member of the Winchester Board, attempted to convince the citizens of the desirability of entering the Metropolitan system, claiming that the supply of water would not be adequate in ten years from that time. His suggestions came near being favorably acted on by the citizens, but on sober second thought they decided not to part with the reservoirs. In this regard the citizens acted wisely, as the town's supply of water is in no danger of running short for many years to come, probably 50 years or even more.

Now the Metropolitan Water Board has cast covetous eyes on our reservoirs and has made the plans for the Metropolitan system, were that considered, and this move of Mr. Freeman was said to have been made at the suggestion of that Board, of which Mr. Freeman shortly after became a member, resigning his position on the local Board.

When the Metropolitan Board was first created it had the power to take the then existing water supplies of such cities and towns as it saw fit and thus compel them to enter the system. After a time the injustice of this method was brought to the attention of the Legislature when an act was passed making it optional with cities and towns as to whether they desired to become a part of the Metropolitan system. That Winchester is to become a Metropolitan water taker is believed to be only a question of time, as the reservoirs are greatly needed for the perfection of the plans as originally contemplated by the engineer of the Metropolitan Board of the brethren might be confiscated, and that there might be some defect in their titles, squatted on their lands and attempted to sell them, but were foiled in their attempt. Many acquiesced in this line of days were not very different from the claim jumpers of these latter days. No law of God or man could then or now, and in the way of their selfish and unwholesome scheme, when they have the physical force necessary to carry them through.

Though the brethren suffered from the Indians about 140 years ago, and from the British 120 years ago, they did not fully escape until nearly 30 years ago. (See "Winchester History"). In 1865 General Stoneman made a raid from East Tennessee, through a part of North Carolina, and according to General Grant, destroyed the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad and bridges up to near Lynchburg, Va. When Stoneman entered North Carolina, "it was expected that he would reach Salem (April 10th) the first of April, and scouts were posted all along the road to Shallow Ford. But Stoneman went on toward Virginia. A few days later, as Stoneman was going South with 5000 soldiers, he stopped three days in Bethania, (ten miles from Salem). I quote again from Miss Fries' History. "It being Monday of Easter week (April 10th) the Bethania people were all at church when word came that all unexpectedly the Yankees were entering the upper part of the town, and when Rev. J. S. Siewers, the Congregational minister, the streets were already filled with soldiers, who burst open doors and rummaged through drawers, but did no serious damage beyond the usual talking of horses. Of these only one escaped, and that because Mr. Sheaub appealed directly to General Stoneman for protection. "After eating everything which could be procured, the party moved on to the Valley, crossing at Shallow Ford." At that time the Superior Court was being held in Winchester, and the County Officers in haste moved the Court records and fled. He is deservingly of great measure of success, and his many Winchester friends are pleased to see him at the head of this flourishing business.

LETTER FROM SALEM WILDER.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.
Jan. 4th, 1901.

The present article may interest only those who are pleased with historical details, but this vicinity is so rich in such detail that your attention has been arrested and you know that a man who is interested in any particular history, he will naturally think that others will be interested in this. This principle, however, does not apply to a man who left a table in a buff, because he could not persuade another man to put ketchup on his beefsteak, saying that he would not sit and eat a good piece of beefsteak spoiled in that way.

In my last I referred to the grant of 30,000 acres (about 15 square miles) named Wachovia to the Moravian brethren, and mentioned the fact that a part of Lord Cornwallis' army camped upon it. But that was only a part of the story. It has been obliged to submit to. In 1759, the Indians caused much trouble for the infant colony, and though united brethren are averse to war, they were obliged to see to it that they were a part of the new settlement, by surrounding it with palisades, whence it was commonly called the "Dutch Fort."

Through the courtesy of Prof. Shirley I have access to a book published in 1857, by L. T. Riesel, and in so far as it is known, the only copy in existence, and from that I glean some of the following facts:

The old French and Indian war commenced in 1755, and on Nov. 24th of that year the Indians murdered ten brethren and sisters on the Wachovia, and from there the savages worked their way north and in the fortifications (Dutch Fort) found a place of refuge.

"Some of these fugitives afterwards entered into a more close connection with the brethren." But several detached companies of Cherokee, Creek and Catawba Indians hovered about and passed through the settlements; but being fed instead of fought, they generally behaved very well. In consequence, the Indians called the Dutch Fort, "the place where there were good people, and much bread." Owing to the war, famine prevailed in many places, and people sometimes came from the Dutch Fort, and some from here to purchase food and supplies.

The Indian difficulties commenced in earnest. The Cherokees and Creeks were against all white people, and the North Carolina militia was called out. The brethren, being exempt from military service, remained at home. But one, who received a commission as Capt. of the Dutch Fort, kept a constant watch over the place, and when the Indians were kept up day and night for quite a while, the Indians should spring a surprise. Though no general attack was made, the Dutch Fort was visited by several individuals who were out in search of provisions and other articles. They were killed by the Indians. In all, 15 were murdered. "A fall of snow in March, 1760, caused the Indians to retire."

The South Carolina militia burned about 800 Cherokee houses and destroyed 1300 acres of corn, and about the same time the Virginia militia chastised another part of the Cherokee, and they sued for peace. But the Indians were not the only foes these pioneers had to contend with. Many things necessary for living were hard to get. At times they had to sacrifice much to even live. They had to bring their salt, purchased at fabulous prices, 40 miles from Virginia. They also had to deal with diseases incident to a new settlement and the consequent deprivation of necessary supplies. During the Revolutionary War, the brethren did not bear arms but stayed on their lands. But by a law passed in 1790, one summoned to bear arms, who refused to do so might be discharged from such service by the payment of certain sums of money. But this could not be extended to any, except such as could produce a certificate of membership in the church, properly signed. But in 1791, trouble arose between the Governor of North Carolina and the brethren, and the latter, as Carolina, and Civil War was on in the State. These regulations publicly declared that all who did not assist them in fighting against the tyrannical Government, "should give half of their produce when gathered to those who did the fighting." At the same time, these Regulations intimated to the Governor that the Moravian brethren sympathized with them. But the brethren took no part in this contest.

On May 16 a decisive battle was fought between the Governor's forces and the brethren. The Governor's forces, consisting of 300 men, defeated the brethren's force of 100 men. The Governor's forces continued westward and reached the Moravian settlement on June 4th, and his 300 horses enjoyed the fine grass on the meadows of the brethren. But after a full investigation, later on, the brethren were relieved of all suspicion of double dealing, and the grass eaten was paid for. When the Revolutionary War came, the brethren were called to military service, and did not respond, but were willing to be taxed any proper amount to aid the existing government. According to a law in North Carolina at that time those who did not support the government might have their property confiscated, and neighbors, thinking the property

FIFTY YEARS A TOWN.

The fiftieth anniversary of Winchester as a Town is to be commemorated by the Winchester STAR in the publication of a handsome bound volume entitled "Winchester, Fifty Years a Town." It will contain valuable and interesting historical matter, fully illustrated with half-tones engravings of churches, schools, residences, street scenes, parks, etc. The history will tell of the leading events, characters, and progress of the town from 1850 to 1900, and the many advantages of Winchester as a beautiful and desirable place of residence will be fully shown. The volume will also contain the portraits and biographies of representative men who, in their lives, their work or their influence have made Winchester of today what it is. It is believed that such a work will commend itself to the citizens of Winchester as a book of interest and value, and that it will be a fitting memorial to the fiftieth anniversary of the town's incorporation.

That Punch Bowl.

This gift of a punch bowl to the town of Winchester by the heirs of Col. W. P. Winchester, for whom the place was named, has led some of the critics to express surprise at the selection of such a gift. The fact that there is not a single gift of this kind in the town, and that the gift is of a punch bowl, is a state of things is unquestionable, and yet it leaves out altogether the account of well-stocked sideboards.

The incident recalls a story that ex-Mayor Prince used to tell. He himself was a resident of this northern suburb and when the matter of a name was before the town, brought about the selection which was finally agreed upon. The chairman of the board of selectmen, realizing Mr. Prince's public services and literary ability, went to him and with some hemming and hawing urged Mr. Prince to draw up the letter which conveyed the information to the Boston gentlemen concerned. He did so graciously and the note went forward. Mr. Prince had drafted for the selectmen a letter which was not much more than a suggestion that he was not much acquainted with the forms and customs necessary on such an occasion and he sat down and read to Mr. Prince the letter which Mr. Prince had drafted for the selectmen, and thereupon asked Mr. Prince to draft a letter. This the latter did, and it is to his credit that he never cracked a smile while at it.—Boston Record.

Workmen Install Officers.

The officers of Winchester Lodge, A. O. U. W., were installed Friday evening, Jan. 4, 1901, by District Deputy E. E. Snyder and suite of Newburyport. A large turnout of the members, including Past Master Workmen G. A. Barron, W. T. McCutcheon, A. W. Rooney, Henry C. Blood, Wallace Palmer and Fred B. Browning were present, also P. M. W. Gurney of Mishawam Lodge, Woburn. The Lodge, according to custom, presented a gold Past Master Workman's jewel, also a A. O. U. W. watch chain to P. M. W. Palmer. P. M. George A. Barron doing the honors on behalf of the Lodge. Remarks on "The Food of the Order" were made by visiting brothers on the good results of the past year of the Winchester Lodge and congratulating the installing officers on their work. Two applications were received. The meeting closed with the members in high spirits over the good prospects for the coming year.

The officers installed were: G. W. Richardson, M. W.; W. P. Palmer, P. M.; W. H. O. Furubush, F. T. Thomas, Lund, O.; Fred B. Browning, R.; H. C. Blood, receiver; Fred S. Scates, financier; G. W. Smith, G.; G. H. Hamilton, I. W.; Fred J. Miller, O. W.; Geo. A. Barron, trustee for three years.

A Street Across the Pond.

The many people who are interested in a street across the pond for the purpose of constructing the northern part of the town with the centre are anxiously waiting for the Town Report to make its appearance to learn what recommendations the important matter will make regarding this important matter. The town at a meeting held last summer took a stand in favor of the street and later the Selectmen gave a hearing, and viewed the location. The department here bases its estimate of the cost to build it. The Selectmen are understood to favor the street, but the expense will be considerable. It is reported that they prefer to have the town pass upon the question. In conversation last summer with the late Chairman of the Board, Lewis C. Fatter, he said this was the first and foremost improvement before the town.

Estimates have been obtained for a pile bridge from a reliable firm, which would cost about $100,000. The expenditure for a street built of gravel would be, in this regard there is found to be a difference of opinion, as many citizens believe that the town would be better off with a pile bridge, it is said, will last for forty years with the usual repairs that such structures require because of the planking wearing out.

This matter will come before the March meeting when it will be fully considered. It is over 25 years ago since the need of this street was first called to the attention of the town, but nothing was done then beyond surveying the pond.

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks.

Prof. Rosa Tyler, of Chicago, Vice-President Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia. I tried different remedies but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it pleasant to take and it relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again." For sale by Young & Brown.

A Singular Case of Repentance.

A singular case of repentance, in which Boston & Maine was concerned, recently was brought to the attention of the Boston Police Department and likewise to the Boston & Maine officials. Shortly after eight p. m. on the evening of November 13th two large packing cases were placed in one of the outer rooms of Chief Inspector Watt's office at police headquarters. Evidently the one who brought the cases had informed himself as to the workings of the chief's office, for they were left while the clerks in the department were otherwise engaged and were unaware of the happening until some time later. Upon investigation the cases were found to contain fourteen pieces of flannel, valued at about three hundred dollars.

In his mail on the morning of November 14th the chief received a type written letter post-marked Boston, of which the following is a copy:

"Dear Sir: Two cases were left at your office last evening. They contain some time previous from a freight car in Ballardvale, Massachusetts, while in transit to New York City, consigned to the Ballardvale Mfg. Co.

Mrs. Cynthia J. Pierce.

Mrs. Cynthia J. Pierce, wife of Sylvester J. Pierce, passed away at her home on Mt. Pleasant street Monday morning at seven o'clock, from pneumonia after an illness of only a few days. A week ago last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Pierce attended church in the evening, and on returning home she complained of having caught a cold. A few days after she was taken ill and symptoms of pneumonia soon developed. Her condition rapidly grew worse, and despite all that her doctor could do she failed to rally.

Mrs. Pierce was 68 years old, was born in Wrentham, N. H., and came here many years ago. She leaves a husband, to whom she was devotedly attached. On August 24, 1881, she suffered the loss of her beloved and only daughter, Clara, aged 15, and it was this great bereavement that caused her to devote the remaining years of her life to alleviating the sufferings of the poor and unfortunate.

In 1890, when the selectmen of the town were taken from the selectmen and vested in the Board of Overseers of the Poor, she was elected a member, and served up to the time of her death. Her interest in the poor, however, went back many years beyond that date in her connection with the Winchester Union. She was also an earnest supporter of the town's poor, and a member of The Fortnightly, and in all of these were seen the objects and aims of this noble woman. She was also a member of the Massachusetts Officers Relief Association, an organization composed of members of the boards of overseers of the poor of the State—and whose meetings she always attended and at times took part in the discussions.

Her knowledge of the poor laws were wide and varied, perhaps to as great an extent as any woman in the State, and owing to this familiarity with the laws she knew how to aid the deserving poor without the stigma of pauperizing them, an evil that causes many unfortunate persons to shrink from accepting aid from a city or town.

Her place cannot be filled to the same degree in which she has filled it, at least not for many years. Always calm, gentle and sympathetic, she constantly moved among the poor, and the great amount of good she has done will never be known, and it is among these people where her loss will be most felt. The town also suffers in her loss.

Funeral services were held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon, the large auditorium being well filled with people of all religious beliefs. The testimony to their sorrow in the death of Mrs. Pierce, Rev. D. Augustine Newton and Rev. Edwin B. Palmer conducted the services, and the Rev. Mr. Newton read a beautiful prayer for the deceased. The choir sang "Rock of Ages," "Nearer my God to Thee," and "The First and Last." The primary department sang "Suffer the Children to Come unto Me." This was a favorite hymn of the deceased who loved the children dearly and who was also like a mother to them. The floral reminders were profuse and beautiful and included pieces from the Massachusetts Association of Relief Officers, the primary department of the Congregational Church, the Church of Overseers of the Poor, and from the office of Palmer & Parker.

The bearers were Rev. Edwin B. Palmer, Harry Parker, C. E. Sweet, Walter Johnson, G. H. Carter and Deacon Cowdery. The ushers were Frank A. Bourne and Thomas W. J. Palmer and Henry F. Lunt.

The Massachusetts Association of Relief Officers at a meeting held in Boston, paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Pierce. The association passed resolutions and appointed the following gentlemen a committee to represent the association at the funeral: Calvin H. Clark of Medford, David F. Murray of Cambridge and Thomas D. Hevey of Woburn.

From 2 until 3 o'clock the stores in the centre were closed, and a mark of respect and the town flag was displayed at half mast.

Mrs. Pierce was a noble woman, and the entire town mourns her loss.

Her 90th Birthday.

Mrs. Joshua B. Rea celebrated her 90th birthday Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George W. Payne, on Webster street. Mrs. Rea held an all day reception and a large number of guests congratulated the dear old lady on the occasion. She received her guests in her room, as on account of rheumatism she has not been down stairs for many years. Mrs. Rea does not look to be over 80 years old and was delighted to meet so many of her friends, for all of whom she had pleasant greetings. Her intellect is remarkably bright and she has a good memory. She was assisted in receiving by her husband, who is 88 years old, and her sister, who is 70 years old. Mrs. Rea has another daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Taylor, of Flatbush, N. Y., one brother, in California, and two sisters. If she and her husband should live until April 24 it will be the 60th anniversary of their marriage and his 80th birthday. Mrs. Rea was generously remembered with beautiful flowers and plants and many gifts. In the afternoon Mrs. Rea and her husband were entertained by Mrs. Leslie and Louis Taylor and Mrs. Paul of Malden served chocolate in the dining room.

As I heard Edmund H. Garrett lecture before the Women's Club in Haverhill last night, I wondered if diversity of talent was inherent to artists. You all know F. Hopkinson Smith writes, lectures, paints and makes bridges. Now here is our Boston artist, Mr. Garrett, who has already produced a number of fine oil paintings, we will be pleased to see him if he is invited.

Mr. S. Ball is a sufferer with the grip. It is necessary to postpone the Epiphany concert announced for February first.

You Can Blame the Weather!

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good"—you can blame the weather for the unreasonably low prices of these Winter Suits and Overcoats. Each line we speak of here today contains garments that sold at least for $2, $3, $4 and $5 more at the opening of the season, but we'd rather you'd have the Overcoats than carry the stock over to another year—"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good." Early choosing will be best, of course.

Suits. Overcoats.

At $7.50 you have choice of nobby Business Suits in Tweeds, Cassimeres, Cheviots—if you want to pay $10 and $12 for them go to the small retail clothier. Many of these suits were sold for $12 and $15 more at the opening of the season.

At $10, heavy weight Blue Worsteds and Scotch Cheviots, with your choice of single or double-breasted coats and vests. If you want to save $5 here's your chance. Two weeks ago many of these suits were sold for $12 and $15.

At $12, Worsteds in Stripes and Checks, patterns that you'll not find elsewhere. Dressy, but you do not have to pay $15 for extra style you get. There are $15 and $18 Suits in the lot.

At $15, Striped and Checked Worsteds in exclusive patterns. Many of these suits, and sold for $18 and $20 prices easily in November.

At $7.50 there are Kerseys in all shades and Oxford Mixtures with velvet collars to match the cloth. They were made up especially for this season's trade, but the price has been $10 and $12 heretofore.

At $10 there are the ever popular, stylish, durable Kerseys and Friezes in all shades, with velvet collars to match. In the lot are many Overcoats that sold for $12 ten short days ago.

At $12 there are Oxford Mixtures, Meltons and the popular loose fitting Raglan in a rough Oxford mixture. Many Overcoats that sold at $15 the beginning of the season are now in the $12 line.

At $15 there are the soft, dressy Victorian and all shades Meltons and Overcoats that are equal to custom made. Many of these suits sold at $18 less than a week ago.

Electric Light Hearing.

At the continued hearing before the Gas and Electric Light Commission Tuesday, Mr. Jas. H. Winn said he liked the plan better than the old as he could burn all the lights he wished without costing him much more than when economizing under the old plan.

Mr. Henry F. Johnson stated that he had written a communication to the STAR urging an appeal to the Commission for a consideration of the proposed plan, as it did not strike him at that time as a fair proposition. That he did not now desire to be considered as endorsing the company because he did not feel qualified to pass judgment upon a question of which he had no technical knowledge, but he did think the petitioners had failed to make out a case and the evidence presented in the commission shows a very material reduction of prices and he believed that was along the right line. He did not think the company should be compelled to reduce prices to accommodate the ideas of the few petitioners who were apparently dissatisfied because they did not understand the proposition.

Mr. Patterson, the electrician of the company, then proceeded at length and was followed by Mr. Wallis with further testimony and the latter finally made his closing argument. Mr. Russell then closed for the petitioners. Nothing new was developed on this second day and nothing whatever was gained by the hearing. The hearing was adjourned because of the lateness of the hour, which is one of the weaknesses of this board. The petitioners took one and a half hours, the company two and a half. Mr. Wallis summed up the case for the electric light company as follows:

The basis of my system can be perhaps better understood by a consideration of the following: The electric light is being run on consecutive hours daily for a customer whose use of the power consists of a total of one hour in the ten hours the engine is operated. That the cost of operation including all legitimate fixed charges, is say, $10 per month. That the profit desired is 25 per cent, consequently the charge to the customer is $12.50 per month. Now supposing the customer desires to use the power every hour during the ten hours the engine is in operation, which increases the cost of production to say, $40 per month; because he uses ten times as much power should he be charged $50 per month, simply because he paid $25 for one month's use, or shall he be charged 25 per cent. profit on the new cost he has created? I am an advocate of the latter plan, Mr. Russell is an advocate of the previous one. Any flat rate (say, K. W. hour for instance) is ten times the charge for ten times the service regardless of the cost figures. Since Mr. Russell has urged that his views be adopted as a matter of principle, I urge that my views be fully and carefully investigated for the reason that as a matter of principle I can never execute an order of the Commission, or any other authority having jurisdiction, that contemplates a return to a flat rate plan of charging. While the Water Light, Heat and Power Company will, undoubtedly, in any order the Honorable Commission may see fit to give in the matter, personally I shall never return to the plan abandoned July 1st, 1904, and I believe that my present attitude in this matter has only been determined after due and careful deliberation and that this attitude is one of a defiant spirit but with all honesty and sincerity of purpose.

I stated the first day of the hearing that 90 per cent. of the petitioners who had been under the present plan had been benefited by this new plan. I now desire to reiterate and emphasize that statement.

Mr. Farquhar thought that if he got a lower price than under the present plan than he did last year under the old plan that his objection would be removed.

Mr. Cutting stated that if his last year's bill had been reduced by a percentage of ten per cent. under the present plan, he would have been satisfied. He stated that he had been under the old plan for many years and that he had been benefited by the plan and knowing that he possesses merits, hope that I will be allowed to carry out my plan as originally laid out. It has been stated that our plan is without a precedent, but I have clearly established the Wright Demand plan as such, by saying nothing of the railroad practice of decreasing the charge per ton per mile for each ton of freight the freight is hauled; of the measured service of the telephone companies which decreases the price per company proportionate with the increase in number of yearly calls over the telephone; both of which are notable examples of the plan which I am introducing.

The commencement of the 20th century is already too late to bring about the remedy which the electric lighting industry has been so sadly in need of for the past fifteen years. We should not have for a future time, a generation inheriting the benefits of the present plan which is persistently knocking at our doors. The majority demands favorable consideration; the majority are and will be benefited. A very small minority failing to correctly diagnose the plan before you ask you to harken to their demands.

The complaint is made against our present temporary plan that it is not equitable. Can any one show that it is not equitable? It was equitable for the reason that it was a temporary plan, a system of charging that evened the existence and yet these people not only stood it for thirteen years but pray this board to compel us to return to that old plan. The present temporary plan is a thousand per cent. nearer equitable than the twenty cent flat rate plan and yet, with the knowledge now, at least, that it is and has been limited to one year, you are asked to throttle the present plan and resurrect the old one. Surely the wisdom of the State in establishing this Honorable Commission was not conceived, as these petitioners are sadly not impached to guide them to the acceptance of a plan which means so much more for them than the one they are prone to demand.

This temporary plan was introduced with the intention of reducing the price per K. W. hour with the knowledge that reduced prices would result in increasing the consumption with many of our customers and, consequently, increase our income; and for the purpose of educating the consumers during the year up to a point where they would desire an equitable plan. It was not our intention or desire to increase the price per K. W. hour under this plan to any one, excluding the former minimum customers, whose minimum use at twenty cents per K. W. hour was raised to $1.67 per month.

In support of the claim we will, at the end of the year, relate to all customers purchasing under this plan excepting only as above, whatever excess they may have paid per K. W. hour, during the twelve months preceding, over the twenty cent flat rate which prevailed prior to July 1st, 1904. To any who will not co-operate with any plan the twenty-four cent net flat rate will apply.

Operating from the new station we have decreased our operating expenses per K. W. hour output and increased our net charges per K. W. hour output. We now demand as our right that we be

First Baptist Church.

The decease of Mrs. Eliza A. Burnham removes from us the oldest member of our church. After more than two score years of devoted and faithful service, she has been called to rich reward. The funeral service was held Sunday afternoon at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Hovey, on Myrtle street.

The first morning service of the new century was marked with special interest. The newest organization in the church, the Handmaids of the King, presented to the church a communion table. Also one of our constituent members presented to the church an individual communion service—a beautiful gift from a beautiful life. The loving spirit of the devoted Mary, who anointed Jesus with the most costly spikenard, still lingers in our midst. The church deeply appreciates these beautiful gifts, and the affectionate sacrificing spirit which prompted them.

Help... Nature

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

Calumet Club Notes.

The postponed quarterly meeting was held last Saturday evening, there being a fair showing of members present. President Rich called the meeting to order, and after the reading of the records by secretary Newton A. Knapp, presented a letter received from The Fortnightly relative to the hiring of the club hall by that organization for the purpose of doing so the request it was necessary to amend the by-laws of the constitution, which would need another meeting, as notice must be given to the members of the club of such an amendment at least fourteen days previous to the meeting. As none of the members were in favor of making the amendment, it was voted that the club deemed it inexpedient to alter its by-laws in order to allow The Fortnightly the use of its hall.

President Rich in retiring from office said that during his administration about $500 of the club's debt had been paid off, although at the commencement of the administration it was not in favor of using all the available funds to do so. He said that he did not think it advisable to reduce the dues of the club and that the past administration was not in favor of the reduction. He favored a reduction in the rates of pool, billiards and bowling. The receipts during the past year from bowling amounted to $520 and from pool and billiards about $850. President Rich said that the membership list had shown a very good increase and urged the incoming administration to see that the club kept in its present healthy condition.

Mr. Rich then formally turned the office over to the new president, Mr. Frank A. Cutting, who made a few remarks concerning the future of the club. The subject of enlarging the club house sufficiently to allow two more bowling alleys, two more pool or billiard tables, making room for a permanent refreshment hall, etc., was then brought up. It was proposed to appoint a special committee to look into the matter and make a report. This was finally settled by President Cutting announcing that he would bring the matter before the directors.

The past year under the guidance of President Rich has been one of the most prosperous years of the club. He has spared no pains or time in his endeavors to make the club stand among the first of similar organizations in the surrounding towns and another prosperous year is looked for under the present administration. The present membership of the club is 180.

The following officers were installed: President, Frank A. Cutting; Vice-President, Nelson H. Seelye; Secretary, Newton A. Knapp; Treasurer, Jos. E. Belcher; Theod. C. Hurd, John J. Ayrer, Vice-Presidents; Chairman, Wm. A. Belcher; Fred N. Kerr, Frank L. Ripley, Frank H. Rand, Membership, Wm. M. Belcher, Theod. C. Hurd, John J. Ayrer, Art and Library, L. McCall, Whit, Edward F. Jones, Howard D. Nash, O. C. Webster, Outdoor Sports, F. H. Harding, Franklin L. Hurl, Miles Holbrook, Billiards, Newton A. Knapp, W. A. Goodwin, Wm. A. Tucker.

There will be a "pool tournament," commencing January 21. The players will be: Miles Holbrook, Billiards, Newton A. Knapp, W. A. Goodwin, Wm. A. Tucker.

On Friday afternoon, Jan. 25, Mrs. William I. Lawrence will address the club. The committee are Mrs. W. M. Weston, Mrs. H. H. Nickerline, Mrs. W. N. Proctor.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, Lieut. Worth G. Rios will give a lecture on the "Storm Wars of the U. S. Life-Saving Service."

Monday evening, Jan. 27, will be ladies' night. Entertainment by Imperial Hall Bell Ringers.

Weak Women

Are Made Strong By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Mrs. Grace Campbell, of 93 Logan Street, Grand Rapids, Michigan, relates the following story:

"The birth of my first child left me in a deplorable condition. My system was broken down and I suffered from general debility. My appetite failed me and the most delicate and inviting food failed to tempt me. I was weak and pale, and had neither strength nor courage. My hair had been growing steadily worse for two years. I had used several so-called remedies but just was not benefited."

"In the summer of 1898, I was visiting in Ludington, Michigan, and there I learned of the wonderful cure effected by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I tried the pills and had not finished one box before I felt much better. I continued them through the year and the result was a perfect cure. I am no longer nervous nor rheumatic and have more than regained my lost flesh and color. I signed Mrs. GRACE CAMPBELL, Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of July, 1900."

At all druggists or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Price box, per box, 10 cents.

Will Cure Your GRIP COUGH

If one bottle, taken according to directions, does not cure your cold, bring back the empty bottle and get your money.

The following are a few of the many testimonials we have in our possession, and should prove convincing evidence of merit.

Mr. G. B. Wood, No. 75 Union Street, Boston, says: "I have used your Balsam of Tar for several years, and it has helped me every time. Today at the office I caught a cold, and I felt so sore across my chest I thought I was going to be sick, and made up my mind to lay off for a few days. On my way home I purchased a large bottle of 'Balsam of Tar,' and when I arrived home took just one dose, a teaspoonful, and have not coughed since. I thank you very much."

Mr. J. F. Wilson, 44 Lexington St., East Boston, says: "I had a severe cold on the lungs and my friends thought I was in consumption, but 'Balsam of Tar' cured me. I should be pleased to verify and endorse on this statement if anyone will call on me."

Has world wide fame for marvelous cures. It surpasses any other salve, ointment or liniment for cuts, corns, burns, boils, sores, itches, ulcers, tetter, skin rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, skin eruptions; infallible for piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at Covell's drug store.

Rusklin Didn't Like Hugs.
Did you ever read "The Hunchback of Notre Dame"? I believe it to be simply the most disgusting book ever written by man, and on the whole have caused more brutality and evil than any other French writing with which I am acquainted. Rusklin is sensual, but he is an artist of the highest touch and a philosopher even in his sensuality. Eugene Sue paints virtue as well as vice. Dumas is absurd and useless, but interesting; Renan is blasphemous, but witty; George Sand immoral, but elegant. But for pure, dull, virtuous, stupid, deadly poison read Victor Hugo—Rusklin.

Everybody Knows About Pain-Killer
A Safe and Sure Cure for Cramps, Coughs, Bruises, Diarrhoea, Colds, Burns, Sprains and Strains. Gives instant relief. Two sizes, 50c. and 10c. Only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'.
Solely by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

A Remedy for the Grippe.
A remedy recommended for patients afflicted with grippe is Kemp's Balsam, which is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms of the disease, get a bottle to-day and keep it for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe has a tendency to bring on pneumonia. Kemp's Balsam prevents this by keeping the cough loose and the lungs free from inflammation. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam at 25c. and 50c.

The New House for the Boat Club.

Daniel H. Rice has been awarded the contract to build the house for the Winchester Boat Club and the work will be commenced this week and pushed rapidly, so that the building will be ready for occupancy by the middle of April. The building committee of the club has had many obstacles to surmount in reaching the point where the papers could be signed, but they have performed the work entrusted to them with commendable dispatch and to the evident satisfaction of the club members.

The new house will be an ornate structure and is a credit to the architect, Robert Colt. There have been some minor changes made in the plans prepared some time ago when it was intended to erect the clubhouse on the shores of Bacon's pond, at a point near the Parkway bridge, but the original designs appear to do most satisfactorily for the site, which is near Everett avenue, on Cambridge street. The rapid construction of the building will be possible because the contractor had been given information that his figures were satisfactory, even before the meeting of last Friday, evening, when the contract was signed, and he has had opportunity to arrange for the delivery of material.

The new house will cost in the vicinity of $5,000, exclusive of furnishings, and the land, purchased of Dexter P. Blauke, cost about $2,000 more. The entire establishment of the club will probably reach a cost of $7,000. The building will race the causeway and a roof garden will give an extended view of the Mystic and Bacon's pond and Wedgemere.

The structure will rest on brick piers which will be built by Mr. Gungley. Contractor Kitey will sub-let other portions of the work if he finds it necessary to do so in order to hasten the completion of the job. The new house will be one of the finest and most conveniently arranged of any owned by a boat club immediately north of Boston, and in perfect harmony with the high grade dwellings at Wedgemere. It will be in view from the railroad train and electric cars, and the stretch of the Mystic Valley Parkway is opened from its verandas.

Members of the organization living in the eastern part of the town are already planning how best to shorten the distance between their homes and the clubhouse. One individual has hit upon a scheme that he thinks cannot be excelled. It is to build a footbridge across the Narrows so as to connect the easterly and westerly shores of the lake. Walling then from the Parkway over the wooded peninsula across the bridge to the clubhouse should be a very pleasant trip and not a long one either. He says that the bridge may be of very simple construction, copying in a general way, the bridge at the foot of Mystic avenue. It should be crowned to a height sufficient to admit of the passage of launches, while a draw in the centre would provide for sailing boats with high masts. It is, however, that owners of sailing craft, at the upper end of the lake will remonstrate if an effort is made to build the bridge, as it will interfere with their boats.

Another plan is to have a scow at the Narrows fitted with ropes so that one may make use of it as a ferry. The endless rope propulsion would be in the way of sailing boats almost as much as would a footbridge. A ferry with a toll at a small figure and a boy to handle the oars would be a money-maker during the summer season. The scow would be already taking of getting a power boat as a business investment. He plans to make regular trips the length of the lake from a landing on the Parkway bridge, touching at the Winchester Boat Club landing and also at the landing of the Medford Boat Club. The trips, as now planned, will be on a half hour schedule and the fare 10 cents.

It has also been suggested that the town may be induced to build a landing in the river near the Bacon street bridge and another at a point near the railroad station. As these landings will be in Manchester Field they should, it is claimed, add to the equipment of the playground and give canoeists an opportunity to travel on the river from the center to the boat house. The river bed will need cleaning and deepening in places before it can furnish water sufficient in depth for the protection of canoeists.

A place for the temporary storage of canoes might be found in one of the buildings near Walnut street bridge.

The spot of canoe sailing will receive an impetus here next season, as a past master in the art has been voted to an honorary membership in the club. The favored person is Paul Butler of Lowell, one of the cracks of the old Vesper club of that city and a trophy winner in many canoe races in different sections of the country. Several of Mr. Butler's canoes are already owned in the club and he keeps his favorite flyer here for use on the Mystic. Herman D. Murphy is already doing a great deal to increase the number of sailing canoe owners and he has in summer, and in acquiring a number of members, locally, in the American Canoe Association.

Should be a Breathing Place for the People.

The Stoneham Independent in an article on the proposed electric railroad from Medford, through Stoneham to Reading and hence to Lawrence and Haverhill, says in relation to that part of the road which will pass through the Middlesex Fells between Stoneham and Medford:

"The park is a breathing place for the people and a cheap conveyance and from what is needed now. This proposed street railway will fill the bill and make it possible for people whom the town is designed to benefit to enjoy its beauties."

The 10 cent fare and the quick running time will make the road a popular and economical route to Boston, especially in summer, as the incomparable route by the pond, with the most beautiful scenery and the splendid effects of the improvements recently made, cannot be equaled in New England. To connect Boston with this way with the great park system means health and delightful recreation to many a little one who now rarely sees nature in all its beauty as is afforded by the Middlesex Fells.

There are a number of reasons in favor of this proposed road and none against. Let Stoneham people speak in emphatic tones, in its favor.

Had To Conquer Or Die.

"I was just about done," writes Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C. "I had consumption so bad that the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by seven bottles and am now stout and well." It is an unrivaled life-saver in consumption, pneumonia, la grippe and bronchitis; infallible for coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough. Guaranteed bottles 50c. Trial bottles free at Covell's drug store.

Herbert C. Sanborn's Notable Record.

Mr. Herbert C. Sanborn is the latest Winchester boy to be honored, as he was informed by the faculty of the College of Liberal Arts of Boston University that he is the winner of the Jacob Sleeper fellowship of $500, as a reward for his record in the philosophy and philology since his graduation from the university in 1896. This means a year's study in Heidelberg university, with all his expenses paid, as Mr. Sanborn has chosen this great German school as the scene of his labors.

What makes this reward all the more meritorious in the case of Mr. Sanborn is the fact that he has worked his way up from the lowest round in the ladder by his own individual exertions and unaided from any source. There are but few men who can show such a record of self-devotion and self-sacrifice as he has in the desire to acquire knowledge and learning. We have known him since his grammar school days and followed his race step by step, and the end is not yet. His parents reside on Highland avenue.

Mr. Sanborn was born in Winchester in 1873. He is a high school senior, a freshman. The following year he joined the Theta Delta Chi fraternity, and during his entire course he was a leader in athletics in the college. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi honor society and in the classroom, where he showed himself especially fitted for philosophical and philological study.

Never in his life has Mr. U. man given such a reputation among his fellow students for acquiring and mastering the French and German languages as Mr. Sanborn has. After his graduation he could converse in either language at ease.

While in B. U. Mr. Sanborn was editor-in-chief of the Beacon, the college paper, and one of the editors of the '96 class paper, the Beacon, which was edited by him for three years on the varsity nine; he played for four years on the football team, at right end the first two years and right tackle the last two years. In '95 he was manager of the football team, and in '96 was captain of the baseball club.

During his course he also took part in Latin play, two French plays and three German plays, which is a special honor and indicative of high scholarship. In both of the French plays he took the chief role, and also in two of the German plays.

After graduation from B. U. Mr. Sanborn obtained Tufts college for a year and obtained a degree of master of arts. During this year he studied in England, Holland, France and Germany and Austria. On his return he was made instructor in modern languages in Tufts college, where he took up a course in Teutonic philology to obtain the degree of doctor of philosophy. Upon his return he was elected to the principality of the school in which he had made such a marked success.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by Young & Brown.

This Would Apply to Winchester.

Every merchant in Melrose is in competition with Boston, and it is fair to say that goods are sold here at as low prices as in Boston. Hundreds of citizens who do their buying in Boston and bring the goods home at great inconvenience are paying as much or more than Melrose prices. The stores in Melrose, especially the grocery and provision stores, are competing with Boston. Goods are sold at Boston prices and delivered at the homes of the customers. Melrose merchants are carrying heavy stocks of goods. They extend every facility, accommodation and courtesy to customers. They deliver at residences, and in great quantities, and promptness. In no city are to be found more accomplished business men. Why not patronize Melrose stores? Why do Melrose men buy in Boston in preference to patronizing their own neighbors and friends?—[Melrose Journal.]

THE LEGISLATURE.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Boston, Jan. 30.—The general court has reached the period of high tide in receiving bills and petitions. One day more and the tides will be shut down and no more new legislation can be received, except by the concurrent votes of four-fifths of the house and the senate. The committee on rules has given out in very definite terms its iron-clad resolve that except in isolated cases of great merit, those gates shall not be lifted. How much this good resolution is worth the next seven or eight weeks will show. There has never been a year within the memory of a person now living when it has not been rather easy to get that rule suspended. Municipalities desire legislation, and they usually get it, even if it comes late, or else somebody will suffer. More than this, the March town meetings are still some weeks ahead, while a great many towns in Massachusetts do not hold their annual meetings until May. It is first discovered in these annual town meetings that it will be impossible to carry out certain plans even of the highest importance without legislative action. For the general court to say that it would not admit such petitions would be simply absurd.

HON. SAMUEL R.ROADS.

But, alas! it is not only the municipal petitions which are admitted under suspension of the rules, but a very large number of corporations came up to secure legislation at a late period in the session, and get their petitions in with comparative ease. Nobody doubts the intention of the rules committee to insist upon a rigid application of the 12th joint rule, but it is one thing to insist and another thing to get 280 men to agree with the committee.

Of course every day at this period of the session develops some new matter in the way of legislation of the highest importance. Not only are bills and petitions coming in, but recommendations are being received from various departments in Massachusetts, which the commissioners, for instance, never get their annual report in after the first of February, yet they never present a report that does not suggest important changes in legislation. Doubtless the most important, however, of their suggestions has already come before the general court, in the shape of a communication asking that the laws to prevent stock watering through the formation of corporations and associations to hold the stock of already organized corporations in Massachusetts be passed.

New things are also being suggested in the way of street railway legislation every day. There never was a year when so many new associations were asking to be incorporated as street railway companies. All of these seek right to go upon private land, which cannot be granted them under the general law for the organization of street railway companies. Others of them desire authority to carry freight or to do other things which cannot be granted by the railroad commissioners under the general law. Meanwhile the railroad commissioners have submitted to the legislature their recommendations concerning what would be proper amendments to the street railway law passed in 1898, and they say very plainly that it would be unwise at this time to attempt a full revision of the street railway law. This opinion is entirely contrary to that of Hon. Charles Francis Adams, who drew the street railway law of 1898.

Representative Garfield of Brockton, who is one of the most industrious men in the lower branch, has introduced a proposition within a few days which is without merit. To settle the question as to whether it is feasible to build a ship canal from Boston bay through Weymouth, Fore River, past Brockton and Taunton to the Taunton river, the bill proposes that the railroad commissioners be authorized to make a survey of the whole route under the direction of the harbor and land commissioners. This bill is eminently competent to take up this question. It has had all the various Cape Cod canal schemes before it which have reached the point of securing charters and preparing plans. It is now considering the detailed plans of the Boston, Cape Cod and New York Canal company. Whenever this bill is made a recommendation to the legislature, after an investigation, the question at issue has been considered settled. This was true of the famous Fairhaven bridge controversy, which it considered jointly with the railroad commission; it was true of the proposition to build a dam across the Charles river, thus constructing a great pleasure basin. Many other illustrations could be cited. Now there is little doubt #### that if a ship canal could be built past the southern Massachusetts cities mentioned, it would prove a great public benefit. The expenditure of $10,000 would settle the question of its feasibility, and, therefore, it would be money well spent.

The auditor's report, issued a few days ago, points out that unless the town of Brookline can be placed, it is still an open question whether an assessment can be laid up in the metropolitan district to meet the interest, sinking fund requirements and cost of maintenance of metropolitan parks this year. Acting on the assumption that the supreme court will decide that the apportionment made by the special commission last year was a fair one, the annual estimates assumed that two assessments—that of 1900 and 1901—can be laid upon the district this year. Over $400,000 was taken from the cash balance of the treasury last year to make up for the loss of the 1900 assessment, which it was expected would be laid and paid. Should Brookline succeed in keeping the matter in the courts this year, the state tax must be increased by at least $800,000 to make up the deficiency in the cash balance and offset the loss of the assessment this year.

Should the matter be delayed until after the adjournment of the general court, the cash balance might have to be drawn on for the entire $800,000, in default of receipts from the double assessment, and thus the treasurer would be compelled to negotiate a loan to save the commonwealth from going into insolvency. Altogether, the situation provoked by the uncertainty in relation to this matter is very curious.

A large number of the women's organizations in and about Boston have petitioned the general court to pass a law to provide that a woman may have the same right now possessed by men to present a defense in court against proceedings to commit her for dipomania. The proposed bill also provides that the act shall not be construed to authorize the commitment of women to the Massachusetts hospital for dipomanics and incurables at Foxboro. This petition is caused by the recent discovery in the case of Mrs. White, an inmate of the Foxboro hospital, that the courts could not deal with her case in the way it could have done had she been a man. Those acquainted with the Foxboro hospital will probably admit that it is an unsuitable place to send women.

It usually has been the case in each house that the ranking member of the committee on rules was chairman of the judiciary committee, which settled the question of leadership, but this year it happens that Senator Chamberlain is chairman of the committee on cities and Representative Saunders of Boston, ranking member of the house rules committee, is chairman of the judiciary committee on election laws. A rather curious circumstance is that both President Soule and Speaker Myers have placed their nearest rivals for the chair at the head of what is supposed to be their personal committee.

HOW THE SHY NEW CENTURY LOVER WILL PROPOSE.

White Ribbon Clippings.

The W. C. T. U. will meet in the vestry of the Methodist Church Friday, Feb. 8, at 7 p.m. Mrs. M. N. Stevens, President of the National W. C. T. U. has contributed an editorial article to the S. S. Times. We insert a few extracts:

"An eminent Doctor of Divinity has said, 'The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is a section of the church of Christ in motion aiming to overcome the greatest enemy of the church.' Miss Willard has said that 'The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is part and parcel of the church' and at one of our great National conventions, when all who had been, or were S. S. teachers, were asked to rise, there was not a single delegate left sitting in her seat."

The W. C. T. U. is the legal descendant of the great Woman's Crusade of 1873-74. It is now organized in every State and Territory of our country, and in more than 50 other countries. The basic principles of the society are Purity, Total Abstinence and Prohibition. Under the Do Everything policy of Miss Willard there are 45 different departments of work. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is neither a sectarian nor a partisan organization. The local unions, of which there are 100 in this country, are composed of women of all denominations. The only test of membership is to sign the pledge and pay the small membership fee. From the general officers, each local union should have representatives of the various departments of work: temperance literature, purity work among soldiers and sailors, flower mission, etc. It should be borne in mind, however, that no local society is obliged to take up any department of work if it does not so desire, and is free to choose which of the forty departments are best adapted to the needs of the community.

I have written especially of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union because it has been blessed and encouraged by the results of its endeavors above all other temperance organizations. God gave to the society a great leader, Frances C. Willard, and this society, to the world of which she gave her heart, life, is steadily gaining numerically and in every other desirable way."

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Winchester was organized in 1876. It has worked quietly, but consistently and effectively during all these years. When 'Yes or No on License' was voted on, some of its members are at the polls with literature and earnest appeal to prevail on all as far as possible, to vote no license. How far W. C. T. U. has helped in keeping the saloon out of our town, and how far it has helped in keeping the public schools through White Ribbon Clippings, furnished by its Press, Supt., and inserted in the STAR through courtesy of the Editor—by its Flower mission its Literature Dept., by occasionally presenting good public speakers, and by various other ways, the local union is an effective agent for good in the home, the school and the community.

Jell-O The New Dessert, please all the family. Four flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Strawberry and Raspberry. Try it today. At your grocers, to cts. Try it today.

Town Council.

Representative Dean has presented the following petition to the Legislature: Some towns are so large in territory that it is impossible to assemble a representative town meeting; and other towns are so populous that town meetings cannot properly transact the business of the town, and yet do not wish to incur the great expense of a city government. Therefore, your petitioner asks that a bill be enacted providing for the election of a town council where a representation of all the voters may be secured instead of only a majority of voters as in the city councils of the cities of this Commonwealth.

An accompanying bill permits towns of 1200 inhabitants to elect a town council of 100 members, which shall have all the powers of the inhabitants of the town assembled in town meeting.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it. Try Jell-O a delicious dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No baking! Add hot water and set to cool. Flavors:—Lemon, Orange, Raspberry and Strawberry. At your grocers, 10 cts.

Walking on the Walls.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is the great remedy for the great kidney, liver and bladder troubles. It has been discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Williams, the eminent physician and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid, rheumatism, and all the various ailments of the urinary system. It is the best remedy for all these ailments. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Williams, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, 100 North Main Street, New York.

It Had Her.

It is related that when the young man who afterward became Governor Fremont ran away with and married Jessie, Tom Benton, the great senator, made terrible threats of what he would do to the young man. He would give him rods and bullets and hades, to all of which Mrs. Benton quietly remarked, "You had better give him Jessie, my dear."

It Will Surprise you—try it.

It is the medicine above all others for catarrh and is worth its weight in gold. Ely's Cream Balm does all that is claimed for it—B. W. Sperry, Hartford, Conn. My son was afflicted with catarrh. He used Ely's Cream Balm and the disagreeable catarrh all left him.—J. C. Olmstead, Arcola, Ill.

It Does Not Irritate or Cause Sneezing.

A Soldier's Life

Text of the Lesson, Math. xiv, 1-13. Memory Verses, 10-13—Golden Text, Mark, xiv, 13—Commentary, Prepared by the Rev. D. M. Stearns.

[Copyright, 1900, by American Press Association.]

"1. Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps and went forth to meet the bridegroom." Chapter xiii closes with His prediction of Israel's rejection. He shall receive Him at His coming again. Compare Rom. xi, 25, 26; Isa. xlv, 8, 9. As He left the temple His disciples tried to call His attention to its magnificence, but He told them that it should be wholly thrown down. He declares the end from the beginning, and things not yet seen by mortal eyes are all plain to Him (Isa. xlii, 19). As He sat on the Mount of Olives the disciples came to Him to ask Him about these things, and His discourse of chapters xiv and xvi is His reply describing what will befall His people in the days of His coming again. We must not forget that these parables of the kingdom refer to what He called the "mystery of the kingdom" when He began to speak in parables (chapter xiii, 10, 11) or the condition of things during this whole age of Israel's rejection. Note what may be called some of the leading features—war and rumors of wars (6), famines and pestilences (7), iniquity abounding, law waxing cold (12) and the end of the age like the days of Noah (37-50). His warnings to His people are on these lines: Take heed that no man deceive you (4), see that ye be not troubled (6), watch (42), be ready (44), be as men waiting for their Lord (13). In the parable of the ten virgins (1-13) He shall come again. We must not forget that these parables of the kingdom refer to what He called the "mystery of the kingdom" when He began to speak in parables (chapter xiii, 10, 11) or the condition of things during this whole age of Israel's rejection. In the parable of the ten virgins (1-13) He shall come again. We must not forget that these parables of the kingdom refer to what He called the "mystery of the kingdom" when He began to speak in parables (chapter xiii, 10, 11) or the condition of things during this whole age of Israel's rejection. Note what may be called some of the leading features—war and rumors of wars (6), famines and pestilences (7), iniquity abounding, law waxing cold (12) and the end of the age like the days of Noah (37-50). His warnings to His people are on these lines: Take heed that no man deceive you (4), see that ye be not troubled (6), watch (42), be ready (44), be as men waiting for their Lord (13). A Dream of Winchester.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

It is now quite late to wish you a happy new year. I began this communication the first day of the year, but because of illness I laid it aside until now. I wish you many years of health and prosperity, and may the STAR long continue in interest and enterprise equal to any of the local papers of the day.

New year's night I had a dream, founded on fact, I saw Winchester, beautiful and fascinating, with the thrills and charm of fifty years of progressive existence, no wrinkles on her cheek, no grey hairs pendant from her brow, her hair as soft as silk, her spirit as exuberant. Her town government able and discreet, her churches full of piety, devoted to that charity which advances true religion, her schools models of faithful training—useful and ornamental learning, her streets wide and safe, her walks smooth and guarded, her water system extensive, furnishing pure and abundant; her public and private buildings monuments of comfort and taste, with rural houses, cheerful and inviting, her people busy and alive with the strong throes of industry and enterprise. I saw this picture yet to culture, with greater excellence, greater influence, and a more brilliant future, to intensify her ambition and stimulate other towns and communities to accept her example. I dreamed over the fields of her town for half a century, the great changes carved—first with skill and vigor—upon hill and vale, forest and stream. The wealth of today, the soil of abundance, the promise of tomorrow, and back, the simplicity, the frugality, the content and virtues of half a century ago.

I dreamed of the earnest conflict of opinion and sentiment of action, that influenced the friends and foes at the birth of Winchester, never yet half told of the personal and active plans, of the midnight meetings, of the public discussions, of the efforts in all directions, to triumph over the mother town and gain a municipal crown. I saw Wolcott out-generated and out-gone on every side. Winchester's every advance was strong and masterly, at home and in the legislature, until a complete victory was won. Hope was crystallized into substance, and Winchester was incorporated April 30, 1859.

Here she stands, now she stands, delighted to look at, influential to consult, with an enduring history, grand and classic in remembrance and deeds.

I awoke, and again dreamed of the adventures, the Richardsons, the Symmes, the Johnsons and the Wyman's, that two and a half centuries ago came from the English homes, and by perseverance, patience and hope, leaped their path through forests, fording streams, fainting with hunger, chilled with cold, to find a new home—Waverfield, Charlestown, Woburn, two centuries later, Winchester.

They, the spirit that gave life to that germ of migration, which transformed in the cycle of time, is our home, the life of their home meetings are they crossed the ocean of adventure, of their hopes and doubts to reach and open a new field of life. I saw this noble and fine new wilderness home, by faith in God and moral principle to do right, be honest and true in their lives. To struggle on, conquer poverty, lose liberty and win it back, and who had brought them thus far.

I saw them in simple content, planning for present and future welfare, for their lives and posterity. I saw them earnest and heroic, pioneers in the development of their land, looking through the misty future with faith that their sacrifices and trials would build a nation great and powerful yet not dreaming of the sublime heritage of the seriousness of their journey, the fruition of primitive hope ripened in the golden urn of two centuries.

I saw them cutting paths, dividing lands, building walls, locating homes, grubbing fields, planting crops and night by night praying for protection against wild beasts and more wild men—faith everlasting in a bright future.

One hundred and fifty years without a school house, once in a while some kind dame meeting the young for a few weeks in cold, rainy weather, reading, writing and spelling in simple form; the only books the bible and hymn book to guide their feet and enlighten their mind. Sunday gatherings under the branches of trees, until 1840, no meeting house in Winchester, a house at Woburn common far away. Erecting a mill to "grind corn" right in the heart of our present village, perhaps, Edward Converse, a "come" to cross the stream, later a bridge of logs. Main street a winding path leading from Woburn over Cradock's Bridge to Charlestown, Charlestown village, Washington street, then called "Richardson's Row," marked out and defined in 1646 by blazed trees, for the three "Richardson's" to find their way to Woburn, the common, the church, the school, through Cross street, then called the "Lane," with three pairs of bars to take down and put up in passing over it, and to go and come over the "Richardson's" river—now the Abernethy to crawl over.

On Woburn mountain wolves were hunted and bears trapped. Forest street in 1740, later a crooked cart path called "Stoneham Road," leading to Lyon Fields. By the side of this path (which was believed to be seen) with Belvidere, brightening with her white ravelier, and dancing on the wall the ghost of a child murdered by the Indians. A ford ran over this street, (Saw Mill brook) now the outlet of waste water from the North Reservoir. On this little stream, dammed up, was built the first saw mill in Woburn, Plain street, leading from the Shawshank region to Cutter's Mill, (now Foxley) in Arlington, by the Gardner's, Wyman's and Keat's, later the Swan's, separating the Hill region from Wyman's Plains, now largely Wedgewood.

Church street, early "Drivers' Lane," commencing at the King's Ford, running through our common, west to Pleasant street, laid out one rod wide on the left from the Symmes grant, one rod wide on the right from the Converse estate. For a hundred years not a house built upon it, except, perhaps, Edward Converse's (doubtful). In 1824 Benjamin Converse died (the last in Winchester of this distinguished family), where the Dodge house stands; here too his father, Ebenezer, died. This lane was used to drive cattle and sheep to feed on Wyman's Plains and the hills in the rear; also to go to Cutter's (Cambridge) Mill, then in competition with the Converse Mill.

My dream of facts will be continued hereafter, when I shall locate all the early settlers of our Winchester, their character and business.

N. A. RICHARDSON, Winchester, Feb. 13, 1901.

The Auditorship.

How many readers of the STAR have ever considered the change that has taken place during the past four years in auditing the accounts against the town?

Of course those who have been frequently brought into touch with the auditing department fully realize the great difference over the old slip and check method and the complete system that now prevails. The public taken as a whole however, know little or nothing about this department.

Previous to four years ago the town had three auditors and the extent of their duties consisted in meeting once a month and approving bills after they had been paid. The system was radically wrong, and the first persons to insist on a more business like method of auditing to this branch of service were William C. Newell, J. J. Todd and Joseph Condon, three members of the board of auditors, and at the present time Mr. Newell is the auditor, there now being one instead of three members. He drew up a by-law which was adopted by the town, in which the auditor was "To inspect all bills presented against the town, see that they are available, and see that a receipt is obtained for each bill, and in proper form, indicate the account to which they are chargeable, and, if they are available, issue a check for the same with his certificate to the Selectmen, who shall draw their warrant on the Town Treasurer authorizing payment; examine the books of the Treasurer, Collector, and Water Board, and all funds or trust funds held for the benefit of the town by the town officers."

Previous to the adoption by the citizens of this by-law, it was claimed that the duties specified could not be done by one man. That was in 1896—four years ago. The thing has been done and Winchester is the only town in the State, and only the efforts and work of Mr. William C. Newell, whom the citizens have retained in office since the new law went into effect.

Of course the system necessitates a great deal of book-keeping and much time, but it is such a vast improvement over the old method that the latter almost no comparison whatever. There is no excuse now for a town department exceeding its appropriation as notification is given from time to time by the auditor showing the amount remaining unexpended, and when the money is exhausted then further payment of bills by that department comes to a sudden stop, so that the custom that prevailed previously to four years ago exceeding appropriations and which caused so much unfavorable comment in town meetings, no longer exists. Another good thing is, that there is not the least chance for a bill being paid twice, a not uncommon occurrence in the past history of the town. Also, the labor of some of the town officers is saved, and they can keep an eye open for discounts on bills.

Auditor Newell may correctly be called the watch dog of the treasury, and that he has attended faithfully, and earnestly to the trust imposed on him there is no room for question.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called la grippe," says F. L. Hewe, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable in one of the most popular preparations for use for such ailments. For sale by Young & Brown.

Accident Befalls Selectman Boutwell.

While on his way to the meeting of the board of Selectmen Monday evening, Mr. Boutwell, the chairman, slipped on his feet on the corner of the street, and fell, fracturing his right arm and leg, and sustaining other injuries.

He was taken to the hospital, and is now recovering from his injuries.

Crouching

In every cough there lurks, like a crouching tiger, the probabilities of consumption.

The throat and lungs become rough and inflamed from coughing and the germs of consumption find an easy entrance. Take no chances with the dangerous foe.

For 60 years there has been a perfect cure. What a record! Sixty years of cures.

How to Get the Grippe.

Don't fail to have the grip. It's the proper caper at this time. If you haven't had it put on your thin shoes, cease wearing rubbers, don't bother with your overcoat and then stand out on the corner and wait. It will meet you half way.

When you have got it good and plenty, go home, shake a while just to convince your wife that it's the real article, and then go to bed.

Send for a doctor and ask him if you had not better take whiskey. If he says no, send for another one. Don't forget incidentally to find fault with your wife, your food and everything in general.

THE LEGISLATURE.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Boston, Feb. 13.—The great event of the week was the joint convention yesterday, when Senator Hoar appeared before the general court and spoke of the life of Lincoln. It was necessary to close the galleries except to those who had received tickets of invitation from the presiding officers or the members.

For over a week now, the legislators and the general public have been in excitement over the various efforts which have been made to further investigate the operations of the various gas interests about Boston. As stated a week ago, the trouble began through a chance remark dropped by Representative Callender of Boston as to the indifference of the manufacturers committee to this situation this session. This led Mr. McPherson of Framingham to put in his order for an investigation. There is no more to be said in the general court than that Mr. McPherson, notwithstanding the hard things which have been said of him, and he showed it when he remarked to the rules committee the other day that perhaps he was being made, unconsciously, a fool by some of the gas interests, but if he found it was so he should make the fact known. However, at the state hearing he declared his belief that he could produce evidence that one great company has set aside $1,000,000 as a fund with which to procure favorable legislation. All the other allegations he had made faded into insignificance beside this, and the committee very properly voted that it was more important that Mr. McPherson should immediately produce his proofs of this than that time should be spent over any other point. So he agreed to bring in his witnesses Monday. Unless he brought something convincing, it was understood that the committee favored an adverse report on the investigation order.

REPRESENTATIVE McPHERSON.

Mr. Henry M. Whitney fully denied Mr. McPherson's statement, and the latter qualified it to the extent of admitting that, while he believed a fund had been created, he did not know that any proofs could be given that it had been used for legislation. If the money was used for the purpose of getting the pipe line charter through several years ago, it is believed by many that the only man who knew anything about such use was one of his counsel, who died from yellow fever last year. The following summer, leaving his affairs in some confusion, so far as Mr. Whitney was concerned.

The rules committee held an exciting session on Monday, when Mr. Lawson stated in plain terms his belief that the New England Gas and Coke company had charged $100,000 on its bills to a party to whom they were really used for legislative expenses, or at least appropriated for that purpose. He also gave it as his belief, founded upon a statement by a director to him, that the directors of the company had been made to believe that this money was paid to Mr. Lawson, to buy off his opposition, and not only that he did not get the money, but that he did not know of such action until told of it by the director. The committee closed its hearing and adjourned until today, when it will decide what it will do. The statement would seem to fully vindicate Mr. McPherson's attitude, though of course there is nothing in Lawson's statement in the way of actual evidence.

The Locket Well Filled.

The members of the general court are pegging away at the big docket of the joint convention, endeavoring to get the petitions and bills heard and reported before the time limit expires. Under the rules, all matters now before the committees must be reported upon on or before the second Wednesday in March. This rule does not apply to the petition of Mr. McPherson, which is under suspension of the rules, from now on. It is the custom to grant an extension of time from week to week after the second Wednesday in March until most of the matters are reported, and after that to simply extend the time from day to day for such committees as may have been unable to finish their business. Two years ago the committee on rules had such success in pushing along the work of the committees that there was no general suspension of the rules—many of the committees reporting within the time limit—but this can hardly be expected this year.

The writer has heretofore referred to the fact that the governor and the state board of education are somewhat at odds as to the disposition to be made of the $5,000,000 received from the sale of Fitchburg railroad common stock to the Boston & Maine railroad last year. It has recently developed that Hon. E.

Moody Boynton, the inventor of the bicycle railway, had a plan which would have relieved both the board and the governor from embarrassment had he carried it through. He thought of putting in a bill to provide that $3,500,000 of this money be expended in the construction of his proposed bicycle railway from Boston to Fall River, by way of Brockton and Taunton. There is slight probability that state aid will ever be given to any scheme of this character, and yet nobody can blame Mr. Boynton for his enthusiastic belief that there is something in the nature of a revolution in his bicycle railway scheme. The legislature has for years indulged Mr. Boynton's ideas to the extent of favorably reporting charters, and extending time upon them. The committee on street railways has this year followed suit, and reported a bill extending the time for the completion of the Fall River road.

Commissioner Swan's Proposal.

Every now and then some commission on a rather obscure office recommends legislation that arouses a great deal of interest. No more faithful official is in office today than Recorder Commissioner Robert T. Swan. His annual reports are always very meaty documents. This year he recommends that a bill be enacted to provide that at the December municipal elections city clerks be selected in each of the cities by popular vote, to serve for a three-year term. Mr. Swan has considered the conditions in Springfield, Holyoke, Northampton and Chicopee, and is convinced that the tenure of office of these officials is much safer when they are selected by the people, as in these four cities, than when they are subject to appointment by the mayor, or elected by the city council. While he admits that it is not as important that a city clerk shall continue in office from year to year, as it is that this shall be the policy in relation to town clerks, where there is no regular place for keeping record books, etc., still he believes that it is far wiser to secure long terms through a popular election wherever possible. There is likely to be some challenging of his views in regard to this matter, but Mr. Swan has a persuasive way about him, and about nearly everything for which he has asked in recent years has been given him through legislation.

Concerning Inebriates.

Among the recommendations this year is one in which the board attempts to solve the question as to what shall be done with confirmed inebriates. It suggests that, after a certain number of convictions for drunkenness, the offender shall be adjudged a common drunkard, and be sentenced for a long term of imprisonment. The board argues that in this way a man will not only be kept away from temptation, but that he will be prevented from propagating others to become offenders against the law. Two or three years ago a law was passed upon the recommendation of Superintendent Pettigrove providing for a clearing up of waste lands by the labor of inmates of houses of correction, etc. The commissioners now suggest that the industrial camps contemplated in this law may very well be occupied by these confirmed inebriates. It is hardly necessary to say that the views of the board will be opposed, especially by a large class of people who deem drunkenness more a disease than a criminal offense, and who believe that it is not the best way to reform a drunkard to lock him up. It will be observed, however, that the inebriate commission does not seem to be considering reformatory measures with these men, but are seeking to relieve the house of industry at Deer island, and other like resorts, from being compelled to support men who are sent to them scores of times through the offense of drunkenness.

A Time-Work Question.

The perennial electric light question has come into the legislature in many different forms this year. All of them, however, seek to promote municipal lighting by a provision that whenever a municipality purchases an electric light plant, it shall not be compelled to pay a larger sum for it than the reasonable cost of establishing a plant like it. For years the contest has brought up the question as to what "the fair market value" of an electric light plant is, and Mr. Adams of Middlesex, Mr. Gale of Natick, Mr. McCartney of Rockland and various other petitioners seek through suggested legislation to answer this question. One man has asked that a law be passed to relieve a municipality from paying for its own works a price of purchase of illuminations. The question of whether a community shall pay for disused material, for good will, for present earning capacity and for future earning capacity, and various other phases continually recur to vex the average public official. The point whether these elements in the contract are vested rights that should be protected has been argued in the courts in various ways. Mr. McCartney would sweep them all away by a simple enactment providing that when an electric or gas plant is taken by a municipality, it shall not be taken into consideration; but against such a move advocates of the rights of the companies quote the constitution. The probability is that after the session is over the laws in relation to this matter will be found just about where they were when the session began.

A Member of the House has put in a petition to provide that the gas and electric light and water companies shall have another element added to their title, and be known hereafter as the gas, electric light and water companies, their authority being increased to the supervision of all water companies in the state. There are not as many of these water companies as once there were, though they exist in many small places. Then other members have asked that the board be given supervision of telephone and telegraph companies, but do not suggest that these names be placed in its official title.

Great in His Line.

Maro, the magician, musician, artist and shadowgraphist, who is to appear at the Town Hall next Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. course is the most versatile man in his line of business in this country. He is "simply great," as the small boy would say. We would advise all to see his bewildering and mysterious exhibition.

All the Year Round Bath House.

The question of placing a bath house and swimming tank on Manchester Field near Walnut street to be open all the year, has again been revived. The expense is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000, to be conducted the same as that of Brookline, where there are attendants and a small fee charged, and also instructions given. Such a scheme would be of a great deal of benefit to the town, and it is thought that the receipts would more than cover the interest and running expenses.

Cling to the Old.

There is a movement started to ask the town to change that portion of Fruit street lying between Ridge street and the Arlington line at Oak street to its original name of Hutchinson Road, as laid out by the Town of Charlestown in 1786-88. There is little reason to doubt but that the citizens will be perfectly willing to consent to the change. The Hutchinsons were among the early settlers of this section and their descendants include a number of the most respected people living here. Fruit street is to a great extent meaningless, while to the name of Hutchinson attaches a great deal of the early associations of this town.

A Nervy Proposition.

The Mayor of Medford has petitioned the County Commissioners to construct a bridge near the present Middlesex avenue bridge leading to Somerville, at an estimated cost of $150,000. This scheme is getting to be quite old now, and in effect it is to affix the cost of Middlesex County. Just why Winchester or any other city or town in the County outside of Medford and Somerville should be expected to pay any part of the cost of this bridge is not clear. It is nothing less than a barefaced attempt to extort money from disinterested communities and should not receive the serious attention of the commissioners even for an instant. There is just as much fairness in the proposition as there would be to expect the county to assume the cost of the bridge in Winchester, and our town authorities should resist the efforts of Medford and Somerville to the last degree.

All the benefits of a first class club house are afforded in a handsomely furnished and well appointed house with parlors, reading and writing rooms, free lectures, gymnasium, baths, the latest magazines and papers, and with every opportunity for recreation and social advantages. With all these inducements the rooms ought to prove inadequate for the accommodation of the young men who would partake of the benefits afforded. The boys of twenty or more years ago would have been delighted to have such a club house at three times the cost of the present membership in the Y. M. C. A.

The association is conducted on broad and liberal grounds, and everyone is free to come and go without any annoying restrictions. The directors only ask that every boy shall be a manly boy. The fees derived from the membership of the young men, are but a fraction of the expenses, the balance being made up by liberal friends whose sole desire is that the boys of Winchester should have a club home amid the best of surroundings, socially, mentally and physically.

Erskine of Boston was introduced and spoke on "Some changes in the law affecting married women in the nineteenth century." Mr. Erskine's talk was extremely interesting and was listened to with great attention by the members present. His statements were a revelation to all and proved conclusively that there was great need for changes in the law. The many questions asked after the meeting by a large number of the members proved that the lecture was very instructive and interesting. A rising tide of thanks was given Mr. Erskine at the close of the meeting.

The Holland estate, consisting of a house and 5.000 feet, was sold to John Mead of Woburn for $3500.

The twenty or more pupils of the High School who recently accepted Representative Twombly's invitation to visit the State House are very much pleased with their experience. The many questions asked after the meeting by a large number of the members proved that the lecture was very instructive and interesting. A rising tide of thanks was given Mr. Erskine at the close of the meeting.

Attention is called to an advertisement in another column of an excellent opportunity to purchase 16.78 feet of land on Cross street, with a large frontage, suitable for the erection of two houses. It will be offered at a bargain.

An auction sale of the Reagan and Holland estates on Church street, took place Tuesday, the auctioneer being Edward F. Maguire. The Reagan estate consisted of a house and 28.000 feet of land, went to Patrick Holland at 22 cents a foot, including the house, recently damaged by fire. The Holland estate, consisting of a house and 5.000 feet, was sold to John Mead of Woburn for $3500.

The twenty or more pupils of the High School who recently accepted Representative Twombly's invitation to visit the State House are very much pleased with their experience. Mr. Twombly took them all over the building and explained to them everything that came within their observation, and finally saw the pupils comfortably seated in the visitors' gallery. Our Representative would be pleased to chaperone any of the scholars or other persons who would care to see the State House, also the Legislature in session.

The new rule of Chief of Police McIntosh requiring that tramps shall not be forced into this cold and cheerless world until eleven o'clock in the forenoon has had a tendency to keep them away from this town.

Erskine of Boston was introduced and spoke on "Some changes in the law affecting married women in the nineteenth century." Mr. Erskine's talk was extremely interesting and was listened to with great attention by the members present. His statements were a revelation to all and proved conclusively that there was great need for changes in the law. The many questions asked after the meeting by a large number of the members proved that the lecture was very instructive and interesting. ## News Paragraphs.

Miss Emily C. Barnard of this town, started last Tuesday for Washington, D. C., where she will take charge of the Domestic Science and Physical Culture Departments of the Young Women's Christian Association of that city.

The Metropolitan Park Commission has notified the Selectmen that it proposes to take that part of Myrtle street between the parkway and Highland avenue. When the parkway was built the new grade was such as to make this part of the street impassable. It is not known what use the Commission will make of the street, but it would greatly beautify that locality if the street and the land occupied by Mr. Barnard's house could be taken up by the parkway, thus making a beautiful square.

The meeting of the Board of Selectmen Monday evening was devoid of public interest.

Mr. D. H. Ritcey has his new house on Lebanon street almost ready for the plasterers.

The Metropolitan park commission has issued an order for the removal of the old hotel property and other buildings at Lynn street, to be replaced by a new bath house and restaurant will be erected there. Plans have not been completed.

Next Friday afternoon there will be a sleigh ride at the Calumet Club House, beginning at 2.30. Gentlemen are invited to attend with ladies. Miss Charlotte L. Skillings, Mrs. Paul Wadsworth, Miss Alice Russell, and Miss Sally W. Rich are the committee.

While repairing the break on Highland avenue last week, the cement lined pipe was found to be as good as when first laid. Supt. written when he laid the high pressure line pipe did a good and thorough job.

A private letter says that during the winter recess at Constantinople College, Miss Elizabeth Redfern has been traveling in Europe.

Mr. Dutch has been ill for the past week and unable to attend his duties at the High School.

Mr. H. Lombard has been re-elected secretary of the Boston Philatelic Society.

At a contest at the Boston pool room last night, Mr. Edward M. Mannus beat Mr. Henry J. Lyons.

Samuel J. Elder, Esq., has resigned as a director of the Middlesex County National Bank.

In the Malden district court, last week before Judge Fittengill, Drs. William C. Cohn and George B. Cohn, two well-known Everett physicians, were complained of by the Everett board of health charged with having failed to report a case of diphtheria. They were fined $50 each. Both appealed, and were held in $500 bonds for the superior court.

BOARD OF HEALTH meets last Friday of each month at Town House.

Wedge Pond Right of Way.

The report of the Committee on Town Dumps, through the report of its sub-committee, on the ownership of the Wedge Pond dump, is a very clear and plain statement of the facts in the case. The committee, who after all, must be the final judges of the rights in the case. On the face of the report, it looks as if the town did not know just what it was doing when it sold the land of the old graveyard to the parish and yet when the matter of discontinuing the way to the pond was brought clearly before the voters, in proper form, it voted emphatically to keep the road open. Did the action of the 1888 Selectmen bind the town to a discontinuance of the road? Is the question for consideration at the present time. We have no doubt the people will make up their minds understandingly now that the facts have been presented so clearly to them and will decide rightly on the merits of the question.

Encouragement and Assistance Needed.

We recently printed a statement of the struggle the colored people of this town are having in maintaining their Mission Church at the Highlands. The number of these people in Winchester is about one hundred and fifty and they have nearly all taken up their residence here during the past ten years, coming from the South in the hope of bettering their condition and in securing that freedom of thought and opportunity to learn which has been denied them in their Southern homes. The first step in coming here was to secure a church home of their own, and while they have accomplished this, the struggle to maintain it has been a hard one indeed and most discouraging because of the lack of money and consequent able leadership with the inimitable result of a failure to hold the people together, consequently many of them do not attend any place of worship.

As all know, the majority of colored people have a continual struggle to make both ends meet, therefore they are not able to give a great deal toward a church home. The town looks well to their education, but their spiritual welfare is in a great measure neglected for the reasons given above. There is an opportunity here for the churches to assist these people in their struggle to maintain a place of worship, which we are sure will not be neglected when the facts become known.

Sleight Statistics.

A gentleman who has kept a reliable diary of the number of days on which there has been sleighing during past years says that during last January there were twelve days, and thus far in February 19, making a total of 31 days, or a month of sleighing.

Last year, in January, 14 days, February 4, March 2, total 20 days. So that there has been eleven days more than last year, was during the entire winter of last year. In neither year was there any sleighing in December.

As a result of the examination for a cadetship at West Point, held last Saturday at the High School, Francis B. Wilby is recommended for appointment; the alternate is Arthur B. Flanagan.

Greater Boston Scheme Again.

The Somerville Journal thus characterizes the hearing held at the State House Thursday on the petition of Marcus C. Cook for legislation providing for a greater Boston, by permitting cities and towns adjoining to be annexed by concurrent vote.

"Somerville ought to be represented at this hearing by a large delegation of influential citizens in opposition to this scheme to destroy the identity of this city as a municipality, as well as other cities and towns adjacent to Boston. Somerville already possesses all that Boston can give us, excepting high taxes, rumshops, political heaters, and cheap-John politicians, and may be counted upon to vigorously oppose any scheme to saddle these corrupting ills upon us. The protest against the measure from Somerville should be as strong as it is possible to make it, let other cities and towns do what they may."

This important hearing was held with out prior notice given to the cities and towns, and it is not at all surprising that so strongly when it is held that not one person in 500 in Winchester knew that this hearing was to have been held.

Deafness cannot be cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is often but a local inflammation of the mucous surface.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Hall's Family Pills for the best.

In the date of admission Oregon is one of the oldest states beyond the Mississippi, entering the Union in 1859. It was the first state to have the political honor of naming the vice-presidential candidate (Joseph Lane) for one of the great parties in the first year of its statehood.

Drying preparations simply develop dry catarrh; they dry the secretions which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid all drying inhalants and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. All druggists sell it at 50 cents or it will be mailed by Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, N. Y.

Ignorance everywhere. In Boston there are persons who don't know a symphony from a sonata and in Chicago persons who don't know a prime or a cannon.—Detroit Journal.

Beat Out of an Increase of His Pension.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded as a soldier in Mexico in 47 and 48, I contracted Mexican cholera and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for on every renewal a dose of it restores me." It is unequalled as a quick cure for diarrhoea and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Young & Brown.

The Smart Set for March.

Set upon by a novelette by Mrs. Burton Harrison, entitled "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch." This is perhaps the strongest and most dramatic story Mrs. Harrison has ever written, and from first to last it is vibrant with emotional interest. The number is the 40th issue of the "The World of Tomorrow," edited by Henry Goetz McVicker, entitled "The World of Chance." "The Loves of Mr. Heath," by Flora Bigelow Dodge, sets forth in the guise of fiction an under side of English social life that is known only to the initiated—the loyalty of single men to married flirts whose rights of prior possession are jealously guarded against possible rivals with matrimonial designs. "The Current of Things," by Edgar Fawcett, is a story of a brilliant young woman whose experience in his peculiar courtship of Lady Isabel Orow goes far to substantiate his theories concerning inevitable destiny. "The Love Letters of a Lie," published "The Smart Set" last fall, created a social sensation, contributed to the present number a story of the Philippines, entitled "The Mestiza." Other conspicuous contributors are Edith Rogers, Edith Carman, Ella Wheeler Lacy, Edith Sessions Tupper, Clinton Scollard, Gertrude F. Lynch, Gwendolyn Overton and John Regnault Elyson. For sale by A. M. Rooney.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called la grippe," says F. L. Howe, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and drive off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes the most desirable one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by Young & Brown.

HOME VS. THE SALOON.

"Ours is the great and sacred cause of the home versus the saloon. I would like to summon here into the witness-box a saloon keeper, to an honest hour to testify to us. The saloon-keeper finds it a constant battle to be solved. Perhaps he will say: 'I am a middleman between the brewer and distiller, and the people. I do not deliberately desire to do a wrong thing, but I must keep my patrons replete, because if I do I am sure to become a rich man after a while. That is the reason why I am in the business. I must pay for him with cigarette, fire, somebody's cradle, somebody's dearest and best. In order to succeed I must take the little fellow from his home, and I must keep him with cigarette, cigar, music, cards and other things, and draw him away gradually, until after a while I will change that boy's idea of home and sanctuary. I shall have the lachrymanian duty of the saloon; he who used to breathe God's name in prayer, shall hiss out that name in curses, and I will change his face that his mother would not know him, and his soul that God would not recognize it.' It is because these things are true that I cannot pay for him with cigarette, to protect his children is the dearest and most sacred instinct of a woman's heart. She has learned something about the saloon, but I must keep my patrons replete, because if I do I am sure to become a rich man after a while. That is the reason why I am in the business. I must pay for him with cigarette, fire, somebody's cradle, somebody's dearest and best. In order to succeed I must take the little fellow from his home, and I must keep him with cigarette, cigar, music, cards and other things, and draw him away gradually, until after a while I will change that boy's idea of home and sanctuary. # THE WINCHESTER STAR.

SINGLE COPIES, FOUR CENTS.

FRIDAY, MARCH 1, 1901.

Entered at the post-office at Winchester as second class matter.

Town Meeting.

The annual town meeting and election will be opened Monday morning at 6:15. The business meeting will probably be deferred to 7:30 o'clock in the evening, as has been the custom, but the balloting for town officers will be continued throughout the day until 4:30, when the polls will close.

"Origin of Winchester."

Mr. N. A. Richardson has contributed a valuable paper relating to the early life of the town entitled "Origin of Winchester," and which can be found on third page. This subject has never before been fully gone into in the many articles that have been heretofore written of the early life of Winchester.

Don't Stay Away.

Don't stay away from town meeting Monday evening. There are many important articles in the warrant to be passed upon, notably reconveying the playground back to the town and the question of its future maintenance; a street across the pond; the matter of appropriations, which concerns all taxpayers; bath-house and bathing place; the adoption of building laws, and also other important matters, some of them calling for large appropriations of money.

Your Vote is Wanted.

All indications point to a small vote being cast at the election Monday because of there being no opposition to the candidates nominated at the caucus, whose elections are assured. This may be so, but there still remains an important matter to be settled at the polls, and that is the question of the polls. Voters should bear this in mind and not neglect this opportunity of showing to the outside world that Winchester still occupies a foremost place in the ranks of no-license communities. Only a little effort is required to go and vote, and it will result in so much good for the future of the town. Ask new residents why they selected Winchester for a home.

Street Across the Pond.

The Selectmen advise reference to the next Board of the question of a street across the pond. As the old Board and the new will be practically the same, and as the members are thoroughly conversant with all the details, it is not clear that a reference would in the slightest degree bring this matter to a head during the present year. The Selectmen were instructed by the voters to lay out the street, but for some reason they have not done so. It is probable that the expense likely to be incurred. Mr. Fattue has publicly expressed himself as being favorable to such a highway, and characterized it as being the most important improvement before the town. As it will cost considerable money to build the street, perhaps the Selectmen did right to refer the matter back to the town. The street should, however, have been laid out and, as near as possible, the exact cost ascertained, and this will have to be done before the citizens will agree to go ahead and vote money for the work. This matter of a street across the pond will never be settled satisfactorily one way or the other until the actual expense has been ascertained.

A Calico Bundle Party.

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Davis gave a Calico Bundle Party at their home in Glenhurst last Friday evening. The guests came in masquerade costume, each bringing a bundle containing an article to serve as a prize in the game of the evening. The game was a "Calico Bundle" and was very much enjoyed. The prizes were given to the winners. The game was a "Calico Bundle" and was very much enjoyed. The prizes were given to the winners.

Previous to Election.

The only person to take out nomination papers was Mr. W. L. Tuck, who will run against Assessor Geo. W. Pave. After considering the matter, Mr. Wm. H. Herrick decided to abstain from the caucus, and will not therefore be a candidate for Auditor.

Death of Rev. Charles R. Bliss.

Rev. Charles R. Bliss died at Longmeadow, Mass., Tuesday, Feb. 26th (just a nine days after the death of Mrs. Bliss). Funeral services were held Thursday, Feb. 28th, at Longmeadow. ## Good Templars.

Wedgewood Lodge, I. O. G. T., held a very successful meeting last evening and three new members were admitted. A dramatic club was organized and it will soon be ready to put on the stage one of its pleasing plays. The Lodge continues to grow very fast and nearly every member is in attendance at the meetings. The Wedgewood Quartette is engaged to sing at Greenwood Wednesday evening, March 13, and they are prepared to sing at all times coming or sending music at entertainments. Last evening there was singing by Sister Menchion, reading by Sister Risan, remarks by the Chief Templar, recitation by Sister Peck, singing by the quartette, remarks by Mr. C. Potter, recitation by Jack Webster and speeches by visiting brothers from Crystal Glen Lodge of Stoneham, also Beacon Lodge of Montvale. There was a good time throughout the evening.

News Paragraphs.

Some generous citizen should provide the local Y. M. C. A. with a telephone. It would be of much assistance to the Secretary, and greatly help along the work of this organization, which is providing so much for the pleasure and building of our young men.

Miss Murial Tappan, well remembered by the younger people of Winchester, now residing at Sharon, is a student at Dean Academy.

Rev. S. W. Adair spoke on "The C. E. Covenant" at the Y. P. S. C. E. rally at Woburn Washington's Birthday.

Twenty-seven members of the Congregational society and 19 from the Unitarian society attended. The rally was quite successful.

At the ladies' afternoon held at the Calumet Club House Washington's Birthday was celebrated.

Prizes were won by Mrs. E. M. Messenger, Mrs. Franklin L. Hunt, Mrs. Albert A. Sargent, Mrs. M. A. Sargent, Mrs. W. L. Tuck, Mrs. E. Hovey.

The Democratic Committee has organized by the choice of P. Graham Gray as chairman, William B. Richards as secretary, and M. E. O'Leary treasurer.

Residents living on Winchester place had much fault because of the straw used for bedding at the town stable being allowed to blow about the street with the wind.

The straw is placed outside the dry in front of the stable and the fine particles are carried broadcast, besides the residents say the place is unsightly and a disgrace to the town.

Mrs. J. A. Laraway was given a surprise party at her home on Mt. Pleasant street last week, the occasion being her birthday.

Many people were present from Woburn, where Mr. Laraway is well known and much liked, also a number of the townspeople. Piano solos, graphophone concert, a social good time and refreshments rounded out a most pleasant evening.

Miss Katherine Pond has resigned as a Church Visitor at the Congregational church, but has been granted a letter of dismissal from the church, she being no longer a resident of Winchester.

Dr. Geo. F. Brown and Mrs. Brown have been granted a letter of dismissal from the church, she being no longer a resident of Winchester.

The House has passed to be engrossed a bill to provide that whoever keeps an unlicensed dog shall forfeit $15, which he shall pay to the County Treasurer.

The bill is to be introduced by Mr. George H. Hamilton. Evidently there is to be a building boom in this section this spring as all of the purchasers are erecting homes on the land.

Mr. S. C. Small is at the Hot Springs, Va., where he finds the climate beneficial to his health.

The patent leather factory opened by Mr. Frank Cole in Woburn, is now in operation, and will be increased as the demand becomes necessary.

The Playground.

Before the town decides to take back from the State Park Commissioners the Playground, the whole question should be carefully considered. To do so will mean an annual expenditure of considerable money on the part of the town. Let the State Board continue in control for a year or two, then if the prevailing conditions are not satisfactory, the town can, no doubt, have the Playground reconveyed back if it desires to. There is no doubt, too, but what the State Board would keep the grounds in better condition than would the town. Time will tell.

Wedding Anniversary Sale.

One of the prettiest fairs has taken place in this town for many a day was the Wedding Anniversary Sale, held in the Winchester Hotel, Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings, under the auspices of the Ladies' Friendly Society of the Unitarian church. Metcalf Hall was resplendent with the many beautiful, rare and valuable articles, and the handsomely decorated tables, loaded down with the sale articles. The following ladies were the committee in charge of the sale: Mrs. L. Parkhurst, Mrs. W. B. French, Mrs. Katharine Fletcher, Mrs. Fred Symmes and Mrs. H. A. Emerson. The fair will close Friday evening with a drama and dancing.

At the Sugar Wedding table, Mrs. J. T. Clark was very prettily gowned as the bride. The ladies having charge were: Mrs. B. S. Briggs, Mrs. T. H. Emus, Mrs. C. E. L. Wingate, Mrs. F. Cole and Mrs. Dr. Eaton. At this table was a tempting display of cake and home made candy, which found ready purchasers.

The Linen table contained a large variety of articles and some pretty aprons. The bride here was Mrs. J. T. Clark, who wore her wedding gown of heavy cream silk and duchesse lace. Mrs. Davis, Mrs. C. T. Fortis, Mrs. Stacey and Mrs. Dr. John I. French were the matrons.

At the Mystery table, Mrs. Manchester, Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Thompson sold many mysterious goods, and were surrounded by the children, who crowded around the table at all times. At this table was also an old woman with a wonderful apron on with many pockets, which were "picked" by the little ones.

The China and Silver table was very generously filled with handsome souvenirs, including China and silverware. A considerable showing of solid silverware. Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Burton, had quite a busy time waiting on customers here.

Mrs. L. A. Wallis presided over a good sized table containing all solid silver articles. Mrs. Wallis solicited from Mr. T. W. Lawson, who in his usual generous manner, gave a valuable contribution of $100 worth of solid silver from a leading Boston jewelry store. The display attracted a good deal of attention, both on account of the generous giver and also the designs of the articles.

The Tin table was very attractively decorated and contained mostly articles of tin, including tin China and a considerable showing of solid silverware. Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Burton, had quite a busy time waiting on customers here.

At the Wood table, Mrs. Walter Chamberlain was the dainty bride, and the committee in charge were: Mrs. W. E. Miller, Mrs. N. Goddard, Mrs. Edwin Fisher and Mrs. F. Russell. At this table the entire display was made up of the design over the table was carried out in cloths and shawls, which was unique.

A very attractive table was the Remembrance table over which was the inscription, "Let us Forget," from Kipling. This table contained articles contributed by friends and relatives of the society, each article marked with the donor's name and where it came from. Several of the articles came from as far away as California. Mrs. Wilson and Miss Kitty Folger were the committee in charge of this table, but owing to the former's illness were not present, although they assisted in its preparation. The other ladies were: Mrs. M. E. French, Mrs. Russell, Miss Ruth Lawrence and Miss Sophia Wilson.

At the Crystal table, Mrs. Louis Bacon wore her bridal gown, which was an elegant costume, and Mrs. D. N. Skilling and Mrs. A. Richardson were the matrons. The cut flowers and potted plants were at this table also.

Miss Alice Symmes, Mrs. H. G. Young, Mrs. Paul Washburn, Mrs. Walter Jarvis and Mrs. G. H. Eustis had a busy time disposing of a great variety of articles on the Paper table. Mrs. Washburn was the bride at this table.

The tea and chocolate were served on the platform by Mrs. Proctor, Mrs. H. Nickerson, Mrs. Watson, assisted by Misses Ethel Fletcher, Charlotte, Nickerson, Dora Holman, Mary Kellogg, Helen Eustis and Fanny Rich.

Misses Nellie Stevens and Lucy Bishop served lemonade. The ice cream was served in the library by Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Fred Twombly, Mrs. A. Haines, assisted by Sadie Mills, Eliza Twombly, Florence and Estella Perry and Gertrude Symmes.

Mr. Herbert Dutch had charge of the shooting gallery in the basement. Mrs. Katharine Fletcher and Mrs. G. S. Littlefield attended the door.

Wedgemore Lodge of Good Templars.

This Lodge met last evening and initiated four new members. A large amount of business was transacted, after which a fine entertainment was given, and an hour was given. There were readings by Mrs. Polley, Miss Webster and G. W. Potter, recitations by Miss Isham and Miss Webster, songs by Miss Ayers, Miss Mention, Mr. Arnold and the Wedgemore Quartette, speeches by District Chief Templar Watson and Mr. Eldridge, both from Greenwood, and by Chief Templar G. W. Potter, from Winchester.

A large number of the members go to Greenwood next Wednesday evening to assist the Quartette in bringing home the honors.

The Lodge is selecting a play to be brought out soon that will meet the approval of the people and receive their support. What play they will select will be a good one, and it is hoped their efforts will result in a full house. The Lodge is doing a good work and the ladies are striving to make the meetings so interesting that no young man will want to stay away from them.

A JOLLY BIRTHDAY PARTY.

At Which Mr. Edward S. Barker was Substantially Re-membered.

How jolly it is to be counted in the ranks of life insurance agents! Did you try it? Through good luck a representative of the STAR was initiated into membership Wednesday evening at Young's Hotel, Boston. It was for one evening only, however, with no support. Nevertheless from the experience gained, and the great pleasure received, even this favor of being counted as an agent for a brief period of statistics, an incident that will live in the memory, however sorry we may be that the link did not remain permanent. We left the ranks rammed full of valuable statistics, with the satisfaction of having met so e of the jolliest and smartest men to be found in the State. A man has to be a successful life insurance agent, with the knack of giving the "jolly" and the "warm hand" to prospective candidates for insurance. We are free to admit that this was the first time we really and truthfully enjoyed meeting an agent of an insurance company, and before being so summarily ejected from membership we were made acquainted with some forty of them, and not one, be it said, even hinted at taking out a life policy. As the evening wore on, the choice viands spread upon the tables, loosened the tongues of these men, and then jolly and repartee abounded unrestrained and back of it all was shown the rare business sagacity. There was a minister present also, but even these serious and dignified men were subject to the contagion, and they cracked jokes just the same as the other fellows.

Mr. Edward S. Barker met be gifted with a rare instinct to be able to have in his service, such a bright lot of men. As for their affable qualities, these as a matter of course were probably acquired from contact with the genial Barker.

The reason for this meeting at Young's Hotel was a complimentary dinner given by the agents of the life insurance department of the Home Life Insurance Co. of New York to their general manager, Mr. Edward S. Barker, on the occasion of his birthday. The dinner was given in the main hall, including some of the best of New York and the New England States and from all parts of Massachusetts. There was a reception from 5.30 to 7.30 o'clock, after which the company marched into the handsome banquet hall. The center of the tables were a lot of flowers, while at each place was a pink rose for the decoration of the guests.

The banquet was a most successful one, and the guests were most entertained. The banquet was a most successful one, and the guests were most entertained. The banquet was a most successful one, and the guests were most entertained.

Echoes.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:
Broke loose again.
It is a good idea to swear in the new elected officials at the town meeting as was done Monday night and it might be made still more impressive to advantage. The assessors particularly should remember their oath and act accordingly.

Apparently the abutments on Swanton street do not want the town to know where the street line is. Do they know?

Article 3 should be made the last article in the charter, as it is, however first, last and all the time Monday night and was not nearly finished then.

Probably a motion to adjourn to Tuesday night would not have passed but there was no good reason why it shouldn't. This delay is too bad.

Boys under sixteen should not be admitted to the gallery. They are a great annoyance on account of the noise they make and it does them no good to be there. Many were there at ten o'clock who should have been in bed at eight.

The appropriation committee comes in for the usual wails from those departments it has cut down, but it is a good thing that it is a whole, with the town officials, as a whole, who appear before it. The trouble is, while some boards have their business well in hand and talk straight and fully, others don't.

Very likely a city or town can have either the conditions in the street railroad franchise or the compensation tax, but it is certainly contrary to the law of 1883 in contradictory in some respects but the above is clear enough. Our superintendent of street report on this matter assumes that we can have both and he also goes outside of his province in some of his criticism.

There is nearly $8000 tied up in High land avenue extension account awaiting the settlement of five land damage claims. The County Commissioners' award on same being less than $3000. There is also some $10,000 tied up in the town lot on Eaton street, to say nothing of damage of many kinds, and the amount of surrounding property on account of condition of said lot.

We may have to come to this: "Two or more distinct town meetings for distinct purposes may be called on the same day, too."

There is no question whatever but the town meeting may elect a new moderator if the one first elected cannot serve, for any reason.

It is not what towns spend alone but what they have to show for it. The reason the great cities make such a poor showing on the money question is because half of it is practically stolen.

What sense is there in this town incurring its public buildings? We can afford to take the risk and should do it. Last year when it came up it was referred to this year's annual meeting, but there is no article in the warrant, all we can do is to express the sense of the meeting. That should be done.

The first motion at the adjourned meeting should be to lay article 3 on the table and to take up article 10, so that we may be certain of passing the appropriations at that meeting and not have departments and people suffering for money. It is not necessary to do all the reformatory at one meeting.

First Baptist Church.

All our services last Sunday were exceptionally well attended.

On Sunday morning last, two beautiful new chairs for use with our communion table were presented to the church by the Sunday School class of Mrs. E. C. Sanderson. The church deeply appreciates this costly gift as well as the others which have preceded it.

Our B. Y. P. U. Social, which was to have taken place March 3, has been postponed out of respect to the memory of our departed brother, Mr. Frank O. Covell.

Next Sunday evening Mr. Charles E. Blackwell, president of our B. Y. U. will conduct the Young Peoples' service at the West Methodist Baptist church.

At the annual meeting of our Woman's Missionary Society on Wednesday last, $50 for Foreign Missions and $20 for the Home Missions were reported, the bequests of our sainted sister, Mrs. Ayer. The following officers were re-elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. E. H. Rive; vice president, Mrs. H. E. Hodges; secretary, Miss Jessie Macdonald; treasurer, Miss Chaloner. Also four collectors were appointed to assist the treasurer: Mrs. W. J. Armstrong, Mrs. A. J. Gosselin, Mrs. W. P. Palmer and Mrs. John Rice.

The Best Show in Boston for the Money.

One of the most attractive places of amusement in Boston these days, where the admission is a mere bagatelle, is the San Juan Hall, at the rear of 60 Washington street. For to cents is seen a life-like production, on a large canvas, of the famous battle which took place at San Juan Hill, Cuba. The painting cost a large sum of money, and every man, woman and child in the city is a witness to an accurate and complete picture of the battle of the rebellion, also pictures of Uncle Sam's modern battleships. The biograph is a prominent feature of the showing part of the entertainment, in which fire apparatus, a fire boat in action and other stirring scenes are presented. It is the biggest and most instructive show in Boston for 10 cents.

A Good Cough Remedy for Children.

"I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. F. Russell, a well-known and successful physician of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It is recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by Young & Brown.

Highland Bethany Chapel.

Wednesday afternoon the ladies met at the home of Mrs. George Richardson for prayer. Wednesday evening there was a cottage prayer meeting at the home of Mrs. W. J. Armstrong. The prayer meetings are very helpful and it is hoped that they will continue.

The Y. P. S. C. E. will meet in the chapel Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Leader—Miss Edith Little. Subject—"The Castaway." 1 Cor. 9: 24-27. Temperance meeting.

Sunday school at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Junior department at 4 o'clock. Leader—Clarence Williams. Subject—"Children of the Bible." Preaching at 7 o'clock in the chapel.

Rev. Arthur Winn took charge of the meeting Tuesday evening. Mr. Winn gave a very interesting and helpful talk. Miss L. L. Perrie of Brockton will give a Bible reading Wednesday afternoon, March 13th, at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. L. Parker on Washington street.

It is not so much what the newspapers say, as what neighbor says to neighbor, or friend to friend, that has brought Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy into such general use. It is as natural for people to express their gratitude after using this remedy as it is for water to flow down hill. It is the only remedy that can be relied upon in cholera infantum or a man with cholera morbus. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. Have you a bottle of it in your home? For sale by Young & Brown.

TOWN MEETING.

Mr. Louis Barra, for the Committee on Dumps, offered the following, which was adopted:

Voted, That the Board of Selectmen are hereby instructed to take such charge and control of public or private dumps and as may be desirable for the best interests of the town; said Board to command the assistance of the police, fire, highway, law and other town departments in enforcing such rules and regulations as they may adopt in conjunction with the owners of dumps, to prevent dumping in places injurious to the welfare of the town. If additional town by-laws or legislation of any kind are necessary to more fully protect the public against indiscriminate dumping, the Board of Selectmen shall cause such regulations to be made and enforced.

The Board of Selectmen are also instructed to prevent as far as possible street washings, sand and other undesirable drainage from entering into and filling up low places to the detriment of the town. The Board of Selectmen are also instructed to prevent dumping of any kind upon town property or streets of the town, excepting under such regulations as the Board may prescribe.

A notice in writing to the Board of Selectmen from the owners of any property aggrieved by the character of the dump or drainage being deposited on said property, shall be a notice from not less than five citizens calling attention to undesirable dumping in any part of Winchester, shall be presented to the Board of Selectmen, and the matter demands their immediate attention. Whatever expense is incurred in enforcing the instructions contained in this notice shall be paid by the appropriate party for highways and bridges.

METROPOLITAN PARK TAX.

Town Auditor Newell offered the following, which was passed:

Voted, That the Auditor be authorized to collect the Metropolitan park tax of $2.71 per lot, for the purpose of paying the Metropolitan park tax when called for by the treasurer of the Commonwealth.

The meeting then adjourned, to meet Monday evening, March 18, after the Moderator had stated that it would be impossible for him to be present next Monday evening, owing to an important engagement out of the state.

The Election.

To make an extended story of the annual election proceedings of Monday would require a big stretch of the imagination. There was absolutely nothing that transpired of interest. There was no contest and as a result the vote was small, and many voters knowing this did not vote. The Australian system of voting has been knocked all out of the excitement of elections, as formerly where there were two or three hundred men and boys about the voting place, and the ballot clerks and tellers were obliged to hustle for their dinners, and it is not surprising that the election was not as successful as it should have been. For the first time in recent years, the ballot clerks and tellers were obliged to hustle for their dinners, and it is not surprising that the election was not as successful as it should have been.

Thoughts and Events as they come to my Mind.

[By N. A. RICHARDSON.]

One of the most instructive and interesting biographies of American statesmen and politicians is that of Thaddeus Stevens, of Penn., written by Samuel W. McCall of this town.

The style, the arrangement, and the facts presented in the volume are exceedingly well grouped. The diction is rich and highly finished. The combination of the noble and the noble in the life of the subject is a masterpiece of the art of biography. The life of the subject is a masterpiece of the art of biography. The life of the subject is a masterpiece of the art of biography.

WIDE-AWAKE Think about the GRAPHOPHONE

The enormous sales of the Graphophone, are caused by the fact that it has such MATCHLESS POWER OF ENTERTAINMENT

That an INTENSE DESIRE FOR POSSESSION is awakened in all who hear it.

IT SUPPLIES AN ACTUAL WANT (THE IRRESISTIBLE DEMAND FOR DIVERSION AND RELAXATION) TO GRATIFY WHICH MANY ARE WILLING TO DO WITHOUT OTHER NECESSITIES. IT IS THE

UNIVERSAL ENTERTAINER OF THE AGE

An inexhaustible source of Wonder and Delight to all.

It is simple in construction, and prices are arranged to suit all pocket books; while the demand will continue as long as human nature exists.

The introduction of a few Graphophones into a community at once creates an increasing demand for RECORDS and SUPPLIES, and a CONTINUOUS BUSINESS is thus established. Why not secure a few Liberal Profits which are allowed dealers?

The County Tax.

The county commissioners' estimates of the county tax needed by Middlesex are the largest ever known, amounting to $678,810. This is larger by $60,000 than the estimates of last year. Unless the figures shall be cut very heavily by the legislature, Cambridge will have a big county tax. There are large cash assets to be deducted from the estimates, but if the tax for the entire county amounts to, say $550,000, the increase for Cambridge over last year will be nearly $100,000. But who watches county expenditures? The governor watches state expenditures of the state, the mayor watches those of the city. If anybody makes it his business to watch county expenditures, we have yet to learn the fact.

Some of the increases are necessary. The additions to the cost of running the county prisons and county buildings are due in part to the state sixty-hour law, which necessitates added help. The commissioners ask for $40,600 for high ways, bridges and land damages—$860 more than was granted last year.—[Cambridge Chronicle.]

THE NEW WADLEIGH SCHOOL-HOUSE.

Unless some unforeseen obstacle should arise the new Wadleigh school building will be occupied next Monday by teachers and pupils. Four new desks for the teachers have been placed in the building for the four rooms that are to be occupied at the present time. The scholars' desks used in the old building will be installed in the new, but in such manner that they can be easily taken out if the town should vote to close the school. Money to purchase new ones. It is decided to use the old desks, then they will be overhauled and permanently placed in position. The two remaining rooms will not be furnished and occupied before the early summer. The cooking and sloyd rooms in the basement will require but little furniture.

The details of the building and its appointments printed in the STAR last autumn, will not need to be repeated at this time. Each room is provided with an electric clock controlled by a large clock on the second floor of the building. The rooms will be connected by telephone, so that the teachers will be in close communication with each other. The heating in each room is regulated by a thermostat, an ingenious arrangement installed by Mr. A. Eugene Ayer. There is also a contrivance in the boiler room connecting with the damper of the furnace which regulates the fire under the boilers. The fresh air supplied to the different rooms, enters the basement and passing between steam pipes, ascends to the rooms, tempered to a degree that relieves it of all danger to the pupils.

The ceilings and walls have been colored so to give the best results in lighting the rooms, and the curtains at the windows, while harmonizing with the exterior and interior of the building, are entirely different in shade from any hitherto tried.

There are bicycle rooms on each side of the basement for the boys and girls. The floors throughout the building will not be dressed, but remain in the natural color. When the weather permits the grounds surrounding the building will be laid out so as to present an appearance conforming to the handsome building.

George F. Fiske, formerly of Wallingford, Conn., will be the principal of the new school, with Miss Elizabeth E. Marton and Miss Annie B. Stott teachers of the eighth grade, and Miss Elizabeth C. Richardson, Annie T. O'Sullivan and Miss Mary J. Hills for the seventh grade. Miss Frances E. Daley will have charge of the manual training, and Miss Ernestine Briggs of the cooking, for both of which provision has been made in the basement. Nathaniel M. Nichols will be the janitor.

Woburn-Winchester Parkway Monstrous?

The following is taken from the report of the Metropolitan Park Commissioners, just issued:

Early in the year we were instructed by the Commission to investigate and report suggestions as to a route for a parkway from Rag Rock in Woburn to the Mystic Valley Parkway. After a very careful examination of the various routes already proposed for such a parkway and of the land intervening between them, we made a report accompanied by alternative plans based upon a map compiled by the Engineering Department. The route preferred ran south from Rag Rock by way of Dow's Brook to Horn Pond, along the east shore of Horn Pond, making a sharp turn to the west, then a taking on the west shore, down the valley to Wedge Pond in Winchester, along its eastern shore to a point just south of the church, and thence by a short deep cut across to Winchester Common, rising along its southern side to a bridge over the railroad at Winchester station, and thus joining the Mystic Valley Parkway just where it turns east to reach the Middlesex Fells. We felt obliged to express the opinion, however, that such a parkway, in spite of its agreeable character and obvious value, neither connected a reservation with a large center of population nor formed a connecting link between two reservations, and that its creation seemed, therefore, beyond the proper sphere of Metropolitan undertakings as hitherto planned.

Settled Once More.

Representative Dean of Wakefield, speaking in the House last week on the scheme of Medford and Somerville that certain cities and towns in Middlesex County be assessed to pay for a new bridge between those two cities, said: "I insist that Wakefield and the other towns be assessed for the bridge, and that they should not ask that those towns pay for a bridge in which they have little interest. They have burdens enough already. They have joined the Middlesex Elevated, to whom you have given this valuable franchise to the Middlesex Fells. In this bill. This Company will get most of the benefit and should help pay the bills. The legislature in 1898 adopted this policy and joined the Boston Elevated with Boston and Cambridge to pay for a bridge over the Charles river. The L will get the location over this bridge and by all that is just should pay its share. If you want a bridge, to which we make no objection, you must strike our towns out or you will get no bill or bridge from this legislature, we protest." The Medford petitioners agreed later to strike out the towns from the bill.

The editor of the Indicator has had occasion to test the efficacy of Young's Pain Balm twice with the most remarkable results in each case. First, with rheumatism in the shoulder from which he suffered excruciating pain for ten days, which was relieved with two applications of Pain Balm, rubbing the parts until red and realizing instant benefit and entire relief in a very short time. Second, in rheumatism in thigh joint, almost prostrating him with severe pain, which was relieved by two applications, rubbing with the liniment on retiring at night, and getting free from pain. ## THE BOSTON POSTAL DISTRICT.

Malden business men are finding out that the advantages of being in the Boston postal district are not all on the side of the business men. Some advantages are on the side of the postal department. The Malden daily newspapers, selling at one cent per copy, cannot be mailed to subscribers in Malden or Boston, unless postage, at the rate of one cent per copy, is prepaid. Complaints of service, or applications for better service or new facilities must be made in Boston. It is also stated that the very able Boston postmaster is not at all carried away by the annexation scheme by which so many offices are grouped under one postmaster. Malden is trying the experiment. Let Melrose profit by it.—[Melrose Journal.]

At the recent meeting in Boston to form a Greater Boston Association "the office of secretary was left open, pending the action of the nomination committee, which will try to find a widely known citizen whose name will give influence and prestige to the organization." Is such a thing possible?

CO-OPERATIVE BANKS. They Uplift the Man of Moderate Means.

J. Warren Bailey of Somerville, ex-President of the United States League of Building and Loan Associations, has the following to say of co-operative banks: Winchester having a flourishing bank:

In the year 1877, the Legislature of Massachusetts enacted into law the proposition to authorize the establishment of what is now known as Co-operative Banks. This was accomplished after a vigorous contest, which, for several years previous, had proved unsuccessful. Ex-Governor J. Q. A. Brackett, then a member of the House of Representatives, was in charge of the bill, and after discovering its merits, energetically pressed the measure to a successful issue. Fifty years prior to this time, the idea took shape in the city of Philadelphia, when the first building and loan association was established in this country. It may be remarked in passing, that the name of these organizations in most states is recognized as Building and Loan Associations. Massachusetts alone being under the name of Co-operative Bank.

For practical results of the benefits growing out of this work the State of Pennsylvania do not doubt take the lead. Thousands of moderate-priced houses have been built in and about the city of Philadelphia, and occupied by the owners by the aid of the loan associations. The owning of homes was the prime object to be attained in the early days of these institutions. While the importance of this feature has never grown less in the mind of those familiar with their work, an idea less prominent but perhaps quite as important, is now recognized, viz., that of educating the person of limited worldly possessions to the importance of a system of regular savings. Thousands who are now the possessors of a handsome bank account can attribute it to the co-operative bank.

During their history in this state 126 banks have been established. In the year 1880, largely through the effort of P. A. Bridgman, Esq., (who was then a member of the city government), the Somerville Bank was chartered. During its entire history it has achieved remarkable success. Today its assets amount to $200,000.

This in brief is a historical review of the co-operative banks. Much might and ought to be said in commendation of an institution productive of so much good. The assertion that the American home is the safeguard of American liberties is, I presume, generally recognized as true. After an experience of 70 years from the time when the first building and loan association was established, it is safe to assert that no other organization exists or has existed better adapted to the upbuilding of the home.

That the administration of the banks has been wise is demonstrated by the fact that no depositor has ever lost a dollar. Chartered by the state and semi-annually examined by the bank commissioners, there would seem to be little opportunity for any irregularities to exist. Wherever salaries are paid they are of sufficient modesty to enable the payment of interest of one or two per cent, larger than the savings bank or good bonds. Like other lenders of money the greatest difficulty which confronts the banks is to make good loans, the statutes requiring that all loans be secured by first mortgage upon real estate.

The student of social conditions to day recognizes the great disparity between the one extreme of society and the other, the one of great wealth and the many others desperately poor. That the spirit of industry and enterprise which frequently results in the acquisition of millions should be discouraged to one's portends. A fortune honestly secured ought, and usually does guarantee for one the high regard of his fellows. That the few will always be the very rich may as well be accepted, if nature otherwise designed it will be admitted that nature is sadly perverted. Our business men, however, are with those who are regarded less fortunate.

It requires no very keen vision to discern that the future of this land depends largely upon this latter class. The efforts of every true citizen, therefore, should be not to pull down the rich, but to uplift the poor. In a modest yet earnest manner the co-operative bank is contributing its effort in the bringing about this result.

It deserves and, as far as I know, does receive the hearty approval of every thoughtful citizen.

Town Meeting is Important.

The adjourned town meeting will be held next Monday evening, and it is extremely important that every voter should be in attendance as the town will be asked to appropriate about $175,000 for the current year. Also there are many important articles to be acted upon.

Ask, and it Shall be Forthcoming.

How easy and simple it is where the tax rate promises to be high from large appropriations, to call upon the Assessors to keep the tax down. The Board is looked upon as being the possessors of Aladdin's wonderful lamp—rub it and the money will be forthcoming, no matter how large the sum. And how beneficial all this is to the state and county which also profit from the beneficence of the generous geni of the lamp.

Caucus Reform.

A measure of considerable importance as affecting caucus reform, became a law last week. It provides that hereafter each party shall hold all of its caucuses for officers to be filled at the state election simultaneously throughout the state, the date for the same to be fixed by the state committee.

This law abolishes the last vestige of the artificial influence which was formerly exerted by early caucuses upon the action of those called for subsequent dates.

Wedge Pond Right of Way.

The action of the citizens at the town meeting of two weeks ago, in laying on the table the matter of a right of way to Wedge Pond was exceedingly proper in view of the doubt that at present exists in the minds of many people as to just what the proper title to this right of way. There should not be, neither will there be, any feeling raised over this matter, and we believe that an arrangement will be presented to the town at the next meeting that will prove perfectly satisfactory to all concerned. The most that the town would require to reach the shores of this pond would be a tastefully laid out path-way.

Improved Caucuses.

Winchester is far behind the times in the manner of conducting its caucuses. The system, in addition to being antiquated, does not give the citizen an opportunity to vote according to his preference. He is obliged to take what is offered him or not vote at all, and when it is considered that the list of candidates is in many cases the selection of only a few men, he takes but little interest in the caucus or its proceedings. In Wakefield and many other towns they do things more to the satisfaction of the voters, through the Australian system of voting. By this method candidates for nomination are obliged to send their names to the town clerk previous to the day of holding the caucus. The names are placed on one ballot, and on the day of the caucus the polls are opened at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and kept open until eight or nine o'clock in the evening, the ballots being marked the same as is now done on election day.

The obvious advantages of this system are that it gives every citizen an opportunity to enter his name as a candidate, there can be no packing of a caucus, and it enables every voter to exercise his best judgment through the secrecy that the voting booths afford.

Winchester would no more go back to the old method of voting at elections than it would to the time when candles were used for illuminating purposes. And yet, the primaries at which the nominations are made, and the candidates practically elected, are still conducted in a manner embracing all the most objectionable features of the old-time elections.

If it can be done at the coming town meeting, the citizens should adopt the Australian system of holding caucuses hereafter.

Building Laws.

The town during the present meeting will be called upon to pass judgment upon a set of building laws framed by a special committee appointed a year ago. These laws, as proposed, occupy seven pages in a pamphlet the size of the Town Report. In the opinion of many citizens they will not only elaborate and have so many onerous restrictions that they will in all probability retard the growth of the town if put into force. For a town the size of Winchester such laws should be of the simplest character and for the comfort and protection of the inhabitants, but in those now before the citizens, they appear to be more fit for a thriving and crowded city. If there is an urgent demand for building laws, many say that they be of the simplest form possible. For instance, a fire limit is recommended in which the exterior walls of all buildings hereafter to be erected shall be of brick, stone or iron. This limit practically includes the entire part of the town known as the centre, and as taken from the report reads:

From "a line beginning at land of the Boston & Maine Railroad one hundred feet south of Common street, running parallel with and one hundred feet from Common street to and extended across Church street to a point fifty feet north of Church street; a line running from said point to the northeast corner of Elmwood avenue and Vine street; Elmwood avenue to Main street; across Main street to the pond; the pond and river to the south side of Pleasant street; the south side of Pleasant street to the northwest corner of the town hall lot; a line from said corner due south to the highway; the highway and Walnut street to land of the Boston & Maine Railroad; and a line across said land to the point of beginning."

What would be the effect of this

Newsy Paragraphs.

Mr. Felix DeCamp, brother to Mrs. S. D. DeCamp, died at Worcester last week Thursday at the age of 67 years. At the costume party given by the Stomach Athletic Club last Thursday, Winchester was represented by Miss Jennie Lord, who wore a handsome evening costume, Miss Lillian Plummer, an evening dress, while Mr. C. A. Twombly appeared as a belle of the 400. Other young people from this town were Mrs. Edwin Cooley, Webster street, who took to Carey Hospital last week for the purpose of undergoing an operation. Reports are to the effect that the operation was successful and that she is on the road to recovery.

A few of St. John's appropriations: Street lights $3500, highways $5000, fire department $4000, schools $24,000, assessors $500, overseers of poor $400. It is now known that the streets of Stomach are in their present condition.

Had Winchester decided to become a part of the Metropolitan water district, the citizens would now be commanded to use the water sparingly. As the town refused to take its water from that source the result is it has all the water it wants. If Winchester should, however, be annexed to Boston, then, perhaps, there will not be need for so much water as at present.

Don't forget the town meeting Monday evening. Many important articles are to be acted on.

The heavy rain Monday, while extremely welcome, caused many bad wash outs that will necessitate considerable money being spent in repairs. Supt. Spates had men out watching the bad spots and assisting in a free flow of water to the sea.

Not a few of the town's cars were considerably delayed by dirt washing onto the tracks on Cambridge street. The water in the streets has risen considerably as a result of the storm.

In the evening Supt. Spates had every lantern in his department, placed at dangerous places in all parts of the town. Not in many years has there been so many washouts and so much damage done as during the rain storm of Monday.

Among those who took part in the concert given by the Union Society of the High school at Malden last evening was Master Howard Snelling of this town.

Miss Della Whitney will give a musical at her home Saturday afternoon, her Boston pupils contributing to the entertainment.

A Circle of King's Daughters has been formed by young ladies of the Congregational church of which Miss Mary White is president. Miss Elizabeth Abbott, secretary; Miss Elizabeth Browning, treasurer; Mrs. Newton, director. Regular meetings will be held upon the first and third Tuesdays of each month, from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Miss Maud Foltz of Wildwood street, was able to be out this week after a severe illness.

A card index system made in connection with the Town Reports would be a great deal of value to the citizens and the town. There is a card index of the STAR in the town library whereby every prominent article published in the paper since its first issue, twenty-two years ago, can be readily found by reference to the card index.

What will the tax rate be after the town meeting is over?

George Russell, near the Medford and Winchester line, has just completed a large and commodious farm barn to take the place of the one destroyed by fire last year. The new structure stands to the left and rear of the house on the southwest side of Winthrop street.

At the town meeting held at Reading last week the entire warrant of sixty-four articles was disposed of at one sitting. This is doing up business with a vengeance.

The re-election of Dr. B. T. Church to membership on the Board of Health last Monday was just the proper thing to do. He is the right man for the place—a faithful and intelligent officer. The people here consider Dr. Church "sound corn." [Woburn Journal.]

Mr. and Mrs. (formerly Miss Victoria May) Harry Elsie, observed their tenth wedding anniversary at their home in Chicago Monday. Mrs. Elsie is a daughter of Mr. John Maxwell of Cross street, the veteran tanner.

Mr. Marcus H. May sailed on Wednesday for Europe, on a business trip.

Our exchanges in writing of the success of the Towanda minstrel show given in Woburn last week say: "To Mr. Joseph J. Todd of Winchester, who had charge of the entertainment, must be given a great deal of credit for the success of the show. Mr. Todd is perhaps the best all-around manager in this section."

Mr. C. E. Van Deusen, of Kilbourn, Wis., was afflicted with stomach trouble and constipation for a long time. He was unable to take any food, and his condition was such that he was unable to do any work. He was finally cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

These Tablets are for sale at Young & Brown's drug store. Price, 25 cents. Samples free.

A handsome water color picture of the proposed new Boat Club House can be seen in the banking room of the Middlesex County National Bank.

When the Bacon property was sold last week, the owner, Mr. F. H. Bacon, received several acres to himself of the land situated at the rear of Mr. Frank H. Wills. The situation of the reserved land is most beautiful and slightly, and when put upon the market will make fine lots upon which to build houses.

Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, conferred the second degree on three candidates at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The sewer commissioners have organized with Fred V. Wooster chairman and Thomas Spates secretary.

All the different shades of mounting board for paravents, including red, at Wilson's, Pleasant street.

The Atlantic Enterprise was issued last week under new management to be known hereafter as the Enterprise Company. The business manager is J. Lee Robinson, while our old friend, William Palmer is the editor. The paper has been enlarged to eight pages, and has a very flourishing appearance, with indications of a long life.

Miss Lawrence of Forest street, who has been at a homeopathic hospital, returned to her home this week. Her many friends were very glad to hear that she is much better.

It is not so much what the newspapers say, as what neighbors say to neighbor, or friend to friend, that has brought Chamberlain's Cough and Diarrhoea Remedy into such general use. It is as natural for people to express their gratitude after using this remedy as it is for water to flow down hill. It is the one remedy for all the ailments of the throat, whether it is a baby sick with cholera infantum or a man with cholera morbus. It is pleasant, safe and reliable. Have you tried it? Is it your home?

Mr. George W. Fitz, at a meeting of the 20th Century Club at Boston, Monday, said that the cheapest method of giving the rising generation the needed physical exercise in its best form is the supply of good playgrounds. It is the duty of those who have the opportunity to lose a part of the instinct and have to be taught how to play, but the joy of it and the increased vitality, muscular development, and mental growth are soon evident. An imperfectly poised nervous system in childhood, due to lack of wholesome play, leads, said he, to an early physical breakdown and impaired vitality throughout life.

Women as Well as Men

Are Made Miserable by

Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourage and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon become a thing of the past, and the patient is left a prey to the dreadful effects of the disease.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urin-ates too often, if the urine is scanty, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as the people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable by kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy.
The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail
free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Union will meet with Mrs. Rowe, 9 Mt.
Vernon Street, Friday, March 22, at 10

vice in honor of Miss F. E. Willard, a dis-

IF I WERE A GIRL.

If I were a girl, but warned and guided by some knowledge of life that comes with mature years, there are some things frequently done by well intentioned girls that I would try to leave undone, and some other things frequently neglected by them that I would try to do. If I were a girl, I would determine to have, if possible, a sound, well-knit body; I would not ruin my digestion by eating caramels, nor my nerves by keeping late hours, nor my lungs by breathing bad air and wearing uncomfortable clothing.
If I were a girl I would learn as early as possible to do the homely duties which come to the majority of women sooner or later. I would learn to make my own own clothes, to sweep, dust, iron, and cook, and to do all these things so easily that the doing could never be drudgery.

If I were a girl, I would not make a confidential friend of a new acquaintance. I would know just as many pleasant people as it was possible for me to know, but I would try to keep them at a distance. I began to share my innermost thoughts and feelings with him.

If I were a girl, I would try to keep my lips clear of slang, my words, and stupid goose. I would not seek a reputation for vivacity and "smartness" at the expense of candor and kindness. I would resolve, with all my might, to say what I mean and to mean what I said. If I were a girl, I would learn some things about the events and the prominent characters of the day. I would learn to place the central figures of history—to know that Socrates was a Greek and a Roman, and how and where Joan of Arc achieved immortality. I would not go through life tormented by an ignorance which may be remedied whenever the English language is known and a public library is accessible. If I were a girl, I would not spend hours in reading light novels when the same time wisely used would give me a lifelong acquaintance with Shakespeare,
Milton, Scott, Hawthorne, Tennyson, Longfellow, and still others of the masters of literature.

If I were a girl, I would be a Christian, and I would not be ashamed to own that I bore the name. If I could not be a mature and industrious Christian, I would be content to be an honest Christian girl, and wait for time and training to do the rest. I would let my position regarding the dance, the card table and the theater be so clearly defined that I need not go through the agony of decision every day I lived. I would try not to make myself and my religion offensive by cant and "goodnesses," but I would try to have it understood which side I was on and why I was there.

To put it briefly, if I were a girl, and if youth could look forward as easily as later life can look backward, I would be in life in girlhood what I shall wish in old age I have become.

A Bad Measure.

Here is more measure. A bill is pending in the legislature which takes the control of highway bridges of the state, more than one hundred feet in length, from the control of the local authorities and vests it in the highway commission. It is not merely to take care of these bridges at the expense of the people, but to pay for them, the commissioners of the highway, and the revision and approval which may redirect and re-appportion the cost. The members of the highway commission are three or four of seven members, and five constitute a quorum and may make a decision. If two of the county commissioners are absent from the meeting, the cause of the highway, the

THE LEGISLATURE.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

Boston, March 12.—It is impossible to avoid the conclusion that, notwithstanding the industry of this general comment, which deserves the highest commendation, the pressure is not nearly as great as was the case a year ago, when Senator Chamberlain of Brockton was sitting day after day as chairman of an investigating committee considering the gypsy north work; Senator Post of Lenox was residing over the metropolitan water board investigation; and the committee on manufactures, under the lead of Senator Woodman of Brain-tree, was investigating the Boston gas situation. Unless there are new developments in the direction of investigations, the session should not be a very prolonged one.

But such we shall have the general conclusion of 1901 with us longer than has been the case for many a year, if because of the fact that toward the close of the regular session the question of restricting the state into congressional districts was to come up, necessitating a special committee; and immediately following promulgation a special resolutions committee of 40 members will have to sit for a long time, going over the work of the special commission for consolidating and arranging the public statutes; and following this, in the fall, will come an extra session of 10 days or a fortnight, to enact the codification of the statutes into law.

An attempt is being made by the great estate interests of Boston to secure the passage of a resolve for the constitutional amendment limiting the debt of cities and towns. In support of this, the Boston City Council has appointed a committee to be held in a public hearing that Boston's debt inside the statutory limit is $18,500,000, while its debt outside the limit is $33-500,000. Every dollar of this indebtedness outside the limit has been approved by the general court, and promulgated in financial and banking matters consider that the limit so far as Boston is concerned is a farce. They go on to say that while the population of Massachusetts has increased since 1875, when the debt limit was originally passed, from 1,651,912 to 2,805,546, or 43 percent, that the valuation has increased in that time from $1,840,792,728 to $2,961,195,917, or 60 percent, while the net debt has jumped from $71,784, 096 to $181,016,743, or over 100 percent.
The greatest leap has been in the last five years, when the net debt per capita which had decreased from $12.46 in 1875 to $29 in 1895, went up to $47.05 in 1900. These figures mean that in five years, while the population has increased 12 percent and the valuation increased 16 percent, the net debt of all the cities and towns has increased 33 percent. It need not be argued that these figures are rather convincing.
However, it is doubtful if so radical a step is taken in the matter as to pass a constitutional debt limitation. There are great corporate interests in the city and the question of the Boston subway and other grade crossing eliminations, which have to be put through outside the debt limit.

Debt Limitation.

The committee on election laws has reported adversely on the Dowsie bill to provide for a single mark in voting a party ticket. Could our Lord have reasons for this, the principal one, perhaps, being a fear on the part of some Republican leaders that it would be too easy to vitiate in entire ballot should a dishonest caucus officer feel disposed to add a cross against a full list, where the vote against the candidate would be affected. It is claimed that there are other reasons which have to do with the possibility of certain candidates being in the field next fall that causes certain leaders to discourage any effort at legislation this year.

The Semitool Again.

The question of whether or not the general court will pass legislation to permit sales of liquor by wholesalers after 11 o'clock p. m., has caused a great deal of feeling in hearings before

Town Meeting.

The second session of the annual town meeting took place Monday evening, and when Moderator Russell called the citizens to order shortly after half past seven o'clock there was only a fair attendance. When Selectman Boutwell entered the hall, supported by his crutches, he was given a warm welcome by his numerous friends. Indications pointed to his soon being able to attend to his business, after his long confinement to his house from the severe injury to his ankle caused by slipping on the ice.

The ladies' gallery contained many of the fair sex, while the other gallery was filled with young men and boys, present to witness the proceedings of the far famed New England town meeting.

When Moderator Russell had announced the meeting open for business, Mr. John H. Carter moved that the four be taken up, and then Town Treasurer Spurr offered a motion that $50.00 be borrowed giving the notes and bonds of the town in payment of taxes. This motion was carried.

Under article five it was voted that $31.00 be assessed upon the estates and polls of the town for the purpose of paying the notes and bonds of the town coming due in the year 1901.

On motion of Mr. G. S. Littlefield article eight was brought before the meeting, whereupon he offered the following vote:

That the School Committee be authorized to purchase for the town for school purposes, a strip of land containing about 9745 square feet adjoining the Gifford school lot on the northerly side thereof, for a price not exceeding $200.

In presenting this motion Mr. Littlefield said the land comprised a strip 40 feet wide and unless the town secured possession of it there was grave danger that a building would be erected so close to the school house as to obstruct the light.

Mr. J. F. Johnson asked the Moderator if this money could not be raised by taxation. He called the attention of the voters to the near approach to the town limit, and that if this money was actually needed the School Committee should pay for that of their appropriation.

Moderator Russell said that according to the wording of the article the money would have to be borrowed.

Mr. Johnson then claimed that the man who owned this land wanted to saddle it onto the town, who, he believed, had no intention of building on it. Mr. Johnson did not believe they should buy the land, neither did he like the idea of the town being driven to do so. The owner of this land had done an injury to the neighborhood in erecting the class of houses that he has and by placing them so close together. He can not injure the school house.

Mr. N. A. Richardson called attention to the fact that a few months ago the town could have purchased the entire lot for $200, but it was not deemed advisable to do so. The town debt now amounted to $14 for every man, woman and child in Winchester, and he did not think it good policy to increase it. The houses that had been erected on this lot were a blemish to the neighborhood, and he characterized the intention of the owner to build close to the school house as simply a bluff to put the land onto the town.

Mr. M. H. Dutch claimed that the price asked for this strip of land was not high, and would not give the owner a profit of two cents a foot over what he had paid for the entire lot. The citizens had a chance to purchase this land, and they refused to do so. The situation is present in this: Does the town wish to protect its property by appropriating $200 to prevent houses going up close to the school building? He would inform the meeting that unless this land was purchased, houses would certainly be built in the spring by Mr. Ferguson, the owner. Purchase the land, and forever after the town would have a good school lot.

Mr. A. E. Whitney called upon the School Board for an expression of their opinion.

Mr. S. S. Symmes, of the Board, responded by saying that he had advocated buying the entire lot when the matter was up for consideration two years ago, but he did not now favor buying this strip of land.

To a great extent the new Wadleigh school will take the place of the Gifford, and in years to come, when conditions warranted the owner of the land. He had bought the property and erected houses for an investment, the same as a majority of those present would have done and it was not fair to abuse the man for doing this.

The motion to purchase the strip of land was then rejected by a vote of 115 to 18.

SUPT. OF SCHOOLS.

Under article seven, it was moved that the School Committee be authorized to employ a Supt. of Schools for the ensuing year.

Mr. Littlefield asked how much time the Supt. was to give to his duties.

Mr. Symmes replied that he would be employed three-fifths of his time.

Mr. Littlefield then moved to amend the vote so that the Supt. would give his entire time to the schools.

Mr. J. T. Wilson hoped the amended motion would not pass, as the matter rested entirely with the School Committee to do this if in their judgment they deemed it advisable.

Mr. Littlefield's amendment was lost and the first motion was then passed.

TO PROTECT PLANS AND VALUABLE.

Mr. A. E. Whitney offered the following, which was passed:

Voted, that the members of the Board of Selectmen, Water Board, Sewer Board, Cemetery Board and Board of Assessors, acting jointly, are hereby instructed to provide a suitable room in the Town Hall building which shall contain a fire proof vault and be supplied with facilities for indexing and safe keeping all the plans and other valuable papers belonging to the town, the expense therefor incurred not to exceed $150 and to be charged to the town account; the joint committee to select a suitable person to have the care and control of said room, vault, plans and other papers, not to be taken from the plan room except for reference by the several departments in their respective rooms in the Town Hall building, in which case the appointed officer having charge of the plan room shall be responsible to the town for their safety.

Mr. Whitney in offering this vote said the plans and papers as now kept were in constant danger of being destroyed by fire or lost. The plans could be carried away from the building by almost any person and never brought back, and he gave instances of what had been done with certain plans. These plans had cost the town over $12,000 and some of them if lost could never be replaced.

Mr. Rice and Mr. Wooster supported the motion, the latter saying that the plans of the Sewer Board had no protection whatever against fire. Neither did the maps of the town, which were in the basement of the hall, with its iron vault, to be used as a plan room.

MEASURES OF WOOD AND BARK.

Under article seven it was "Voted that the number of measures of wood and bark be and be hereby fixed at not more than five persons, and that the appointment of the same be and be hereby delegated to the Selectmen for the present year and to April 1, 1902."

APPROPRIATIONS.

The following appropriations were made:

Interest, $21,605.
Highways and Bridges, $18,000.
Street Lights, $500.
Incidental Expenses, $400.
Police Department, $450.
Deputy Marshal, $100.
Fire Department, $800.
Schools, $39,000.
Library, $150 and dog tax.
Common and Public Pools, $300.
Cemetery Maintenance, $1200.
Shade Trees, $600.
Poor Department, $4600.
Health Department, $1600.
Water Works Maintenance, $4000.
Salaries of Town Officers, $3975.
Claims Account, $4000.
Fire Department, $800.
Voted, that $20,105 be transferred from water rates account and $1500 from abatement of taxes account and that the total amount of $21,605 be appropriated to meet the interest coming due during the year 1901 upon the water debt and upon other notes and bonds of the town.

Voted, that $200 be transferred from the corporation tax account and that $500 be assessed upon the estates and polls of the town, and that these sums be appropriated for street lights, the same to be expended under the direction of the Board of Selectmen.

Discussion previous to the passage of some of the above appropriations was as follows:

Mr. E. J. Rich for the Appropriations Committee, in advocating that the appropriation for highways and bridges be $18,000 instead of $22,000 as asked for by the Selectmen, said that new construction ought to wait and that repairs be taken up this year. If this was done not so much money would be needed. Mr. Johnson said that the expense of new work should be paid by loan, or that it should be spread over two years.

Mr. Johnson hoped that new construction of streets would not be stopped this year. The town is growing rapidly, and was becoming richer for macadam work. This would not be the case with poor streets.

Selectman Boutwell, in moving to make the sum $18,000, which with the railroad tax of $2000 would make the amount $20,000, said the street department could get along with this by doing a little less work. The Board intends this year to repair every street in town, both macadam and gravel roads. It was intended to finish Swanton street, rebuild Washington street from Lebanon to Forest street, and the latter from Washington street to Highland street. Also to finish Church street as soon as the Water Board had its pipe. A stone wall would have to be built on Washington street near Mr. Richardson's place. When this work was done all the main thoroughfares would be in good condition.

Mr. C. E. Corey supported Mr. Boutwell's motion.

Mr. J. J. Carter claimed the expense of new construction should come out of loans, and if necessary the money could be raised at another meeting, as he understood was planned by the Selectmen. The money raised now should be for repair work.

Selectman Boutwell claimed that the previous speaker was wrong. The Selectmen will not ask for a loan as the money now asked for would be sufficient, while next year the amount could be materially reduced.

Mr. Boutwell's motion asking for $18,000 was then passed.

NEW STREET LIGHTS.

When the street light appropriation was under discussion Selectman Boutwell said it was intended to place four or five incandescent lamps on Grand street, also arc lamps on Main street.

Thoughts and Events as they come to my Mind.

(By N. A. RICHARDSON.)

One of the saddest accidents, ending in death that ever took place in South Woburn (now Winchester) was that of Richard Richardson, Nov. 11, 1848, aged 35 years. He lived on Washington street, near Cross street, where for 200 years the descendants of Ezekiel Richardson had lived (house now down). He was cutting wood for the Turkey Swamp, and was to have come home to dinner at noon, but not coming, his eldest daughter, Ann, came over to his house, near 1 o'clock, his wife was away from home, stopping with a daughter at Peabody. He saw if I knew why her father did not come to his dinner, as she had cooked for him a boiled dinner, of which he was very fond. I told her not to worry as he was probably stopping to finish up his work and not go back in the afternoon. She came again about 3 o'clock, very anxious. I put her off by saying, he would soon come; he did not come, she came again about 5 o'clock, full of anxiety and said she was working as she would go to where he was, and she would find him. I told her to go to bed, and she went to bed. I went to bed, and she came again about 7 o'clock, full of anxiety and said she was working as she would go to where he was, and she would find him. ### ECHOES.

EDITOR OF THE STAR:

The more or less graceful comedown: "We recommend an appropriation of $5,000 for the streets for 1901." Town report page 49. We need $2,000 for the year's work. Before appropriation committee—"Mr. Moderator, if you give us $5,000 we will be able to do all the work planned for this year." Town meeting, March 18, Next.

The general appropriation committee next year should be drawn so that some outside matter would come in between each and every item, and it would be impossible to have a general appropriation before the meeting, and we all know that it helps our judgment in settling a business matter to bring in continually things having no connection with it. All good business men do this when passing upon important matters in their own business and the advantage is obvious.

Question for the Kindergarten: If you have a balance of one hundred dollars and unpaid bills of eight hundred dollars, is the balance increased or decreased? Don't try to study this question from a town report.

If we get through town meeting in two more sessions we will do well, as there are some articles that will take a good deal of time and ought to be there; articles that ought not to be there.

Both school house building committees "did themselves proud" and should have a vote of thanks. So should the architect of the Wadleigh school-house. Committees have to do extraordinarily well though in this town to escape censure, to say nothing of votes of thanks.

Of what earthly use is it to appropriate money for street lights if the Selectmen will not spend it? Last year we decided that we should have five hundred dollars worth more lights and increased the appropriation that amount and now we find over five hundred dollars unused and many streets without any lights and others very poorly lighted. It is.

There are still many unpainted and therefore unsightly poles in our streets, all owned by wealthy corporations. Here is a chance to improve the appearance of our town without expense to ourselves, and it is a perfectly proper thing to insist on it.

Don't get alarmed over our debt, more than half of it is for water, which takes care of itself. We are apt to be a little liberal in our appropriations every year, as the town is steadily growing and will continue to. All we have got to look out for is pumping up the rate in any one year, and there is no need of so doing, and we will not unless we lose our heads. Grade crossing, street across the pond and High school building are the things that loom up most at present that will be expensive.

It does not follow because a debt is larger in amount it has increased. The Boston Herald said Wednesday—"The rejection of the Greater Boston bill indicates that our lawmakers are of the opinion that there can be no greater Boston than the one we now possess. No one has ever dared to question the quality, but the quantity of the town. No one dares to question the quality of the people but they are satisfied not to increase the quantity nevertheless. Want to know what the town of Boston appears in McClure's magazine.

Joe Todd's female minstrel show will catch the crowd, as the people are hungry for a good show and undoubtedly this will be one. When do the tickets go on sale?

Would it not be a good idea to print the motion to be offered under each article in the warrant?

The Assessors' valuation list should be published in the town report every year, because unless it is we get no report from a most important board of the town, although unfortunately this is not recognized.

Some things we should do. Instruct the school committee to select as soon as practical, the entire services of a superintendent of schools; stop insuring public buildings; finish building Main street at Whitney's mill; instruct the Assessors to make a revision of valuations over the whole town; instruct the Selectmen to find out cost of street car on the pond, or else appoint a committee to do the same; instruct the moderator of the fall town meeting to

$4000 FOR A CLAIM.
The $4000 voted under the item of claim account is for the purpose of settling the verdict against the town for the accident case on Harvard street. It was brought out in the discussion that at a rehearing of the case soon to be had, the court might reduce the amount of the verdict.

INCREASED PAY FOR POLICE.
The increase from $200 to $400 in the police appropriation, was for the purpose of paying the officers $25 a day instead of $20, the present rate. The larger amount is the prevailing rate of wages in surrounding towns.

SHADE TREES.
Mr. N. A. Richardson criticized the Tree Warden for the amount of money expended in the care of trees, claiming that the $1800 spent in the past three years was sufficient to replace every tree in town. Also he found fault because the work was not done by citizens of the town.

Tree Warden Nowell replied that he believed in having the work well and thoroughly done. He said that in the past, in regard to giving the work to town men, he would be glad to do so, but to properly prune trees required skill and training. Town men had been employed to assist, but gave up the work as they objected to climbing trees.

OTHER VOTES PASSED.
On motion of Mr. C. E. Corey, chairman of Committee on new Wadleigh Schoolhouse.

Voted, That the sum of $374.64 be transferred from highway and bridges account and placed to the credit of the Wadleigh Grammar Schoolhouse building appropriation.

Voted, That the sum of $73 be transferred from incidental account and placed to the credit of the Wadleigh Grammar Schoolhouse building appropriation.

By Mr. Lewis Parkhurst, chairman of the committee on new Mystic Schoolhouse.

Voted, That the sum of $27 be transferred from new Mystic Schoolhouse account to support of schools account.

Voted, That the balance of water rates not otherwise transferred or appropriated be transferred to water department construction account.

TRANSPORTING SCHOOL CHILDREN.
The sum of $850 was appropriated for the purpose of transporting children residing in the Hill district and other remote points to and from the public schools.

SALARIES OF TOWN OFFICERS.
The sum of $3975 voted as salaries is divided up as follows: collector of taxes, $200; selectmen, $500; treasurer, $500; auditor, $500; town clerk, $250; registrars of voters, $100; assessors, $800; moderator, $25.

JURORS.
The list of jurors, as prepared by the Selectmen and printed in the town report, was adopted by the meeting, after vain attempts had been made to have names stricken from the list and others substituted.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. PIERCE.
Mr. C. W. Currier, for the committee to prepare resolutions on the death of Mrs. Cynthia J. Pierce, said:

"On the 7th day of January last we were called upon to mourn the loss of one of Winchester's most noble citizens, Mrs. Cynthia J. Pierce. She was born in the little town of Barnstead, N. H., April 14, 1813, and was married to Sylvester C. Pierce in the year 1836. She was a faithful wife and a kind mother. She was known to the people of our town for her term of service as one of the overseers of the Poor. In the duties which she was called upon to perform she was ever faithful, always ready at a moment's notice, regardless of the weather, to aid the poor and serve the sick. Can we not see in her many of the same traits of character as in the late Queen Victoria—a kind and generous to all with that same pleasant face."

He then offered the following which were adopted by a rising vote:
Whereas, The town of Winchester is called upon to mourn the loss of Mrs. Cynthia J. Pierce, a wise woman, who has served the town most faithfully as an Overseer of the Poor for eleven years, and

Whereas, she showed in this service great ability and readiness to do the right thing at the right time and while caring prudently for the interests of the town, she also showed the sympathy and kindness of the poor by her kindly sympathy and substantial aid in the time of need, therefore,

Resolved, that by her death the town has lost an honored citizen, a most valuable official. By indefatigable and careful investigation, she learned accurately the conditions of those for whom she labored and went about among them doing good with unselfish devotion to the best interests. Her constant Christian character, her wisdom and energy in the discharge of the duties of her office, recognized as they were by the people of this town, have left an example which may well be followed by those who come after her.

Resolved, that we extend our deepest sympathy to her family and that these resolutions be spread on the records of the town and that a copy be sent to her bereaved husband.

THE DEBATE WAS BY W. CURRIER, JOSHUA COIT.

The meeting then adjourned to meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A Very Flattering Compliment to Winchester.

What Charles Francis Adams, grandson of President John Quincy Adams, says and thinks about Winchester.

Last week I called upon Charles Francis Adams at No. 23 Court street, Boston. I had never met him before, but knew somewhat of his family. I introduced myself and said: "59 years ago I was a member of the Massachusetts Legislature and sat quite near to your father, this father of a member." He said: "Is it possible? I want to talk with you, take a seat," extending his hand. When I first knew his father the son was six years old.

I told him his father was one of the leading members and made many able speeches, defending the Whig party and its policy. I told him how his father dressed, short frock coat, mulberry color, velvet collar, plain pants and vest, hair short, forehead prominent, and slightly bald. His style and manner of speaking was very forcible and earnest, rising on the front of his feet and throwing himself forward, to give zeal to his remarks; a little inclined to be imperious and unyielding. He inquired who were the other members from Boston. I said, George T. Bigelow, Charles Curtis, George T. Curtis, John G. Dwight, John D. Park, Edmund F. Palmer, J. Thomas Stevenson, were much the ablest of the then 36 members. Mr. Adams has recently written a review of his father's work of gray interest, who during the war was sent as a special minister to England, to adjust the difficult questions arising out of the war so impending at one time in the Trent affair.

We talked of his grandfather, who was President of the United States from 1824 to 1828, and afterwards a member of Congress, fighting so nobly for a right of petition. We also talked of the Brooks family of West Medford. His brother was a daughter of Peter C. Brooks, and a sister to Corbin and Edward Brooks, also sister to the wife of Rev. N. L. Frothingham, and the wife of Edward Everett, whose sister married Nathaniel Hale, who, thirty years ago, was the editor of the Boston Advertiser, and was the father of Edward Everett Hale, the minister and lecturer. The Brooks heirs own a great landed estate he said, but thought it too expensive to hold and it would come into the market for building.

Our conversation turned to Winchester. He knew considerable about our town on account of his being on the commission for the construction of the Middlesex Fells. He said he regarded Winchester as one of the most beautiful and desirable towns outside of Boston, whichever direction one might go. I told him some of the towns south of Boston are thought to be more pleasant and popular. He said, "No, they are not; Winchester is equal or above them in its scenery, location and progress."

I said that he was a judge of professional men, and he replied, yes, and mentioned several he knew. Mr. Adams lives at Lincoln, he is a gentleman of fine presence, dignified yet approachable, and belongs to one of the most eminent families in the nation. His grandfather and great-grandfather were both Presidents, profoundly great and patriotic.

In Memory of Frank O. Covell.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association held March 19th, the following memorial resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, In the order of Divine Providence our beloved brother and ex-director, Franklin O. Covell, has been called from labor to reward, and our hearts have been greatly moved thereby, therefore,

Resolved, that in the absence of our beloved brother and fellow laborer, the members of this Board and the young men of the association, do hereby pay to the wise and helpful counsel, the Christian cheer and sympathy of him who was notably and many times our personal friend and benefactor;

Resolved, that the members of this Association by his presence so often with us in our councils and his kindly self-sacrificing interest in our welfare, that we will ever cherish a solemn respect for his loving and faithful service;

That we tender to the widow our heartfelt sympathy in her great bereavement.

"Something Doing Every Minute."

This was what the invitation circular announced for the vaudeville and smoker of Aberjona Council, Royal Arch Chapter, in Masonic Hall, Tuesday evening, and there certainly was "something doing every minute" up to eleven o'clock, which greatly pleased and interested the one hundred gentlemen present.

Aberjona Council offers social attractions not excelled by any organization in town, likewise affords the best of insurance, and has enrolled in its membership some of the most prominent men of Winchester, who know a good thing when they see the workings of this fraternal and insurance order.

The membership of the organization of the members and their friends, and Mr. A. T. Downer, chairman of the entertainment committee, with the valuable assistance of secretary J. J. Todd, used everyone present most handsomely. The program included humorous selections, comic songs, rag time selections on the piano, and mandolin and guitar duets—all by professionals. Interesting remarks were made by Grand Orator Robson and P. R. John A. Currier of Unity Council No. 99. Lemonade and cigars were served. The membership of the Council is 107 and it is hoped shortly to increase it to 125.

Rheumatism.
Nobody knows all about it; and nothing, now known, will always cure it.

Doctors try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, when they think it is caused by imperfect digestion of food.

You can do the same.

It may or may not be caused by the failure of stomach and bowels to do their work. If it is, you will cure it; if not, you will do no harm.

The way, to cure a disease is to stop its cause, and help the body get back to its habit of health.

When Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil does that, it cures; when it doesn't, it doesn't. It never does harm.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble

and Don't Know It.

Fill a bottle of common glass with your urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settle will indicate an

unhealthy condition

of the kidneys; if it stains yellow, it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent

discharge of urine

is another sign that the kidneys are giving out. It is a convincing proof that the kidneys and

bladder are out of order.

What to do.

There is comfort in the knowledge often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-root, the great kidney remedy, cures every kind of kidney trouble, whether it be backache, rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing urine, and overcomes the necessity of being compelled to go often during the night. The mild and extraordinary effect of Swamp-root is realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

My Creed.

Believe that no man is bigger than yourself.

I believe that he who would master

others must first master himself.

I believe that every man is endowed with a thinking apparatus, and that use this God-given talent. That many, connecting wires with the mental dynamo

of which whistles, cry out, "Let's do it,"

thinker, when asked they are only re-peaters.

I believe that sometimes it is better to be called copperhead than conservative.

A copperhead raises itself to strike at approaching danger, while a Conservative,

like an owl in daytime, blinks its eyes

at impending danger and seeing no immediate cause for alarm, falls asleep

again.

I am opposed to any measure that making behind point and powder, pretends to protect and prosper. But in reality, debauches its citizens, defies its laws, denies enfranchisement, and puts public property into private pockets.

I believe that Jesus Christ is the start-and where they have their ending. That the sermon on the Mount and the Golden

Rule shall be remembered and practiced by the sons of men till they are no more needed.

Clerk of the Selectmen, Carter offered the following under article thirteen.

Voted, that the Selectmen be and hereby are authorized to employ counsel for consultation by the selectmen and other town officers, and that the expense of the same be defrayed from the town's account. Also that the Selectmen are authorized to employ counsel in defence of suits against the town.

Mr. Johnson objected to the passage at this vote inasmuch as it stipulated that the town counsel was to be. He criticised the verdict against the town of $4000 for the accident case on Harvard street, also the fact that $200,000 would have to be paid as Winchester's share for parties on boulevards, as the assessment had been established for the next forty years. In very next day, your appetite returns, your dyspepsia is cured, your headaches pass away, your tongue clears up, your liver acts well, and your bowels no longer give you trouble.

Rummage Sales.
Many doctors of the town hope, for the general health of the public, that there will be no more rummage sales.

Don't Complain.
Citizens who do not attend town meeting should not complain if the business transacted does not meet with their views.

Deserved an Increase.

The police officers are happy over the increase of their wages of 25 cents a day. With ten hours work, seven days a week, regardless of weather, the officers deserved this slight addition. Chief McIntosh called the attention of the Appropriations Committee to the low wages his officers were receiving, and they promptly agreed with him that they should be citizens at town meeting. The action of the chief in standing up for his officers was commendable inasmuch as he does not come in for the benefits of the increase.

The Tax Rate.

Chairman Edgar J. Rich of the Appropriations Committee was right last week when he said that people prefer to settle in a town that has a low tax rate, and for this reason he believed the rate should be made as low as possible commensurate with good government. His citing the case of the trustee of a large estate taking up his residence in Boston so as to avail himself of the lower rate, is only one instance of what high taxes will do. Men of wealth, he claimed, should be attracted here, and this can only be done by making and keeping the taxes low. The rate here for the past three years has not been high, and considering the great improvements that have been made during this time it is a matter for congratulation that it has been kept down to where it is. Winchester is better off in regard to taxes than surrounding towns, and greatly so.

Wedge Pond.

Much has been said and written lately about an alleged right of Wedge Pond over land of the First Congregational Society and of the Calumet Club, and much confusion of mind has been caused by a failure to distinguish between very different things and from a partial knowledge of the situation.

It will be remembered that many years ago the towns of Woburn and Winchester successfully maintained a cemetery in the town of Woburn, and that the land for this cemetery was purchased by the Town of Woburn, a part in 1841 from Thomas Collins and a part in 1847 from Samuel S. Richardson.

The Town of Woburn acquired by these two grants certain rights of way appurtenant to the lands so granted. These were merely private rights of way and in that respect were like those held by any land owner who finds it necessary to gain access to a public highway, or to lands owned by the town, or to lands owned by the parish, not only by necessary implication but by the express words of the deed. The town therefore has no such rights of way today, and this fact in this direction must be interpreted as the result of ignorance or else as a willful attempt to belittle the issue.

In any such case, the town has been mentioned above as appurtenant to and useful only for access to the town's land and not to the pond, which being a great pond is open to the public, and is not owned by the town. Nor is such a right of way in any sense a public right, and is not open to use by the public, but only for such persons as have lawful occasion to enter upon the town's land. Such rights of way have no proper place in this discussion and are alluded to here only for the purpose of clearing up any question which may have been brought up by the numerous articles which have appeared in the newspapers in which the claim has been put forward that those rights appurtenant to the pond for present action by the town.

The public cannot have acquired a right of way to the pond in the location referred to by any supposed dedication of the way by the land owners to a public use. This has been impossible since the passage of the Act of 1846, Chapter 202, re-enacted in the Public Statutes, Chapter 40, Section 94, which provides that any way opened and dedicated to the public use, which has not become a public way, shall be chargeable upon a city or town as a highway or town way, unless the same is laid out and established by such city or town in the manner prescribed by the statutes of the commonwealth. This was decided in Gould vs. Shedd, 130 Mass. 255.

But the foundation most urged for the supposed right of the public to approach Wedge Pond in this direction is an assumed establishment at a town meeting held November 6, 1860, of a public way from Church street towards the pond, and an extension of such way northerly at a right angle to the above, said way, and substantially parallel with the shore of the pond. But the vote of the town for establishing the way looked to the future only and was expressly conditioned upon compliance with the terms proposed in the report of the Selectmen, viz: that the street should be built and graded by the petitioners for the laying out of the way, or by the abutting (exclusive of the town) at their own expense, and to the acceptance of the Selectmen. A glance at the premises today affords little evidence that the policy of the above proceedings in 1860 is to be found in the Act of 1862, Chapter 203, which provides that "The laying out or alteration of any highway, townway or private way, shall be void as against the owner of land over which the same shall be located, unless within a reasonable time, not exceeding two years after the same shall have been laid out or altered, possession shall be taken of such land for the purpose of
